Both Sides Have Choice In India To Quit Empire

NEW DELHI (AP)—Viceroy Lord Mountbatten told a press conference today that either or both of the new states to be created in India under Britain's new plan could remain within the British Commonwealth with Dominion status or could walk out either from Britain or from each other.

He made it plain that the British plan, announced Tuesday, intended that both Hindu India (Hindustan) and Moslem India (Pakistan) could be completely independent both of Britain and of each other, and that neither could control the other on the question of whether to remain in the Commonwealth.

This question was raised by a number of correspondents on the Hindu side of the prospective new frontier in line with fears expressed editorially in some papers that Britain was splitting India in order to be able to retain her influence at least in the Moslem sections.

NO DECEPTION

"There is absolutely nothing sinister in this plan," Mountbatten declared.

"I think it would be most improper for any foreign power to have bases in India," he added.

The princely states would not be permitted to have Dominion status within the Empire, but would get their own independence as soon as power is transferred to the rest of India. They would then be free to remain independent or to join either Hindustan or Pakistan.

Lord Mountbatten declared no party had asked to remain in the Commonwealth beyond the temporary period while arrangements are being made for the transfer of power from Britain to Indian hands. This transfer, he said, was expected to be completed "possibly in August." In a light mood he added that he had "bought a steamship ticket for sometime in August."

But he declared that a state which might choose to have Dominion status within the Empire would be "absolutely free"—as free as any country in the United Nations.

"Dominion status is absolute independence," Lord Mountbatten said. "The only difference between them and nations in the U.N. is that Dominions have never fought each other, have supported each other and pulled together by something stronger than the U.N.—by trust and, in due course, affection."

Conflicting Reactions Reported

By Reuter

As Viscount Mountbatten, Viceroy of India, told a press conference in New Delhi today that British authorities would leave India "when they are told to leave," conflicting reactions on Britain's plan to transfer power immediately to one or two Indian governments with Dominion status were registered throughout the world.

In India itself, opinion ranged from the approval of the independent Times of India describing the plan as "only method by which India's constitutional problem can be settled justly and peacefully," to the condemnation of the ultra-nationalist Free Press Journal carrying the headline "The Greatest Betrayal."

MASTERSHIP STATESHIP

The pro-Congress Hindustan Times hailed the plan as "a masterpiece of British statesmanship and diplomacy," while Dawn, organ of the Moslem League, produced a "Pakistan edition" with a headline "Long Live Pakistan"—the separate Moslem state in India.

The Moslem League Morning News of Calcutta said: "It is to be hoped that the Indian situation as it develops from now on will not prolong Dominionhood beyond the coming 12 months."

The Dominions generally welcomed the prospects of India remaining in the British Commonwealth.

In Ottawa, Prime Minister King said the people of India "may be assured of the sympathetic understanding and good will of the government and people of Canada in their efforts to achieve self-government."

"It is of the utmost importance to the future peace and prosperity of other countries, as well as of India, that this end should be peacefully achieved. It may be taken for granted that once the Indian people, as well as their leaders, have reached agreement on their future political status they will find Canada generously disposed towards self-government."

BENEFITS TO ALL

In New Zealand, Prime Minister Peter Fraser said his government hoped India's independence would be exercised within the British Commonwealth to the increased benefit of all members of the Commonwealth and the whole world.

Australian reaction, as summed up by the Sydney Sun, was that the plan laid the foundations on which to build good-will and lessen the risks of greater disorder and violence.

In South Africa, Premier Smuts expressed "deep interest" in the plan, according to a Cape town dispatch.

U.S. Miners Balk At Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers (A.F.L.) balked today at continuing contract negotiations with southern coal operators.

The U.M.W. representatives informed the operators by telephone they would not attend a meeting scheduled during the morning. This could mean that negotiations between the two were collapsing in the same manner as the bargaining talks between Lewis and the northern and western operators.

After talks had been recessed Tuesday, the southern producers announced they had offered the U.M.W. a $12.70-a-day pay scale, an increase of 85 cents daily over current wages, but, in return the operators demanded abolition of portal-to-portal pay for underground travel time.

The U.M.W. termed this offer unrealistic.

New Head Of C.M.A.

Elected president for the coming year at the Canadian Manufacturers' Association convention in Banff, Alta., today was R. C. Berkshaw (above) of New Toronto, Ont. He is vice-president and general manager of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Canada Ltd. (See story, "C.M.A. Elects," page 24.)

Official Expects Lifting Of Rations

SASKATOON (CP)—An order removing from the ration list all foodstuffs with the exception of sugar and molasses is expected to be put into effect within a week, an official source said here today.

The order had been issued May 30 to go into effect June 5, he said, but it was canceled by telegram May 31. The ration list now includes butter, jams, jellies, honey and canned milk.

U.S. May Free Sugar

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said today that "we are getting very close to the point" where household rationing of sugar in the United States might be abandoned.

Cost Of Living Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Still on a heavy upsurge, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' cost-of-living index advanced 25 points in the month ended May 1, the bureau reported this afternoon. It was the second greatest increase recorded in the index since September, 1939, when the rise was 2.75.

Poles Settled

OTTAWA (CP)—Almost all of the last group of 469 Polish workers to arrive in Canada now have been settled on western farms, Labor Minister Mitchell said in the Commons this afternoon. He said 282 have been established in Alberta. The other 187 were going to Manitoba.

No Choice—Gandhi

NEW DELHI (Reuter)—Mohandas K. Gandhi, Indian leader who refused to comment Tuesday when the plan for partition of India was announced, said today: "If both of us—Hindus and Moslems—cannot agree to anything else, then the Viceroy is left no choice."

Too Much Fruit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Faced with heavy losses through inability to sell this year's soft fruit crop, Pacific northwestern growers have appealed to Rep. Horan (R.-Wash.) for government aid in moving last year's crop, still in possession of canners and freezers.

Snow In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—The Moscow area experienced snowflurries early today, but the ground temperature was warm and the snow melted as it fell. Steady rains which have been falling in the northern and western areas of the Soviet Union for the last 24 hours enhanced prospects for a good 1947 wheat crop.

City Gets $20,000 Cheque On Proposed Hotel On Hall Site

A check for $20,000 was deposited to the city of Victoria in the Bank of Montreal Tuesday by men who plan to form a company to erect a $3,000,000 hotel on the present City Hall site, according to announcement today of Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of the City Hall Committee.

The document containing details of the deposit was signed by Winifred H. Specht of Kingston, in the state of Washington; Robert J. Fannett of Lethbridge, and Milton H. King of King Realty, Victoria, with the document sent to Lethbridge for the signature of Bernard A. Nixon.

The $20,000 is the first payment of the sum of $600,000 which the four signatories have agreed to deposit 30 days prior to the municipal elections in December. They state they will proceed with construction of the hotel after possession is given, following the assent of the electors.

The group offered the $20,000 as a sign of good faith, before further negotiations proceed. The amount will be forfeited should the group fail to deposit the full sum of $600,000 as agreed.

Flash Flood Swamps Rutland, Vt., Leaving 500 Persons Homeless

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP)—This picturesque Vermont city of 18,000 was without power and water today after a flash flood resulting from a torrential rainfall which caused an estimated $2,000,000 loss and left upwards of 500 persons temporarily homeless.

One person, 13-year-old Richard LaVictoire, was reported still missing and fears for his safety grew. Three others lost in the confusion as lowland dwellers fled their homes were finally found by their families.

The city, second largest in Vermont, was without water, gas and electricity.

National Guardsmen patrolled the inundated congested residential area and emergency kitchens were set up to feed the homeless. While the worst appeared over with clearing weather, business was virtually at a standstill as everyone pitched in to clear debris and help homeless.

SLEEP IN ARMORIES

Between 200 and 300 persons slept during the night in emergency cots set up in the Memorial State Armory.

Wide sections of the community were inundated, at least 500 residences were flooded from depths of a few feet to first floors. The city of 18,000 was left without drinking water and electric service.

The wall of water which swept along after the city's power dam had broken under growing pressure reached a crest of 15 feet at times. It tore through the north section of the city.

City authorities directed today that all drinking water be boiled. Many evacuees were taken out in boats and canoes, but a majority had heeded police and national guards warnings and reached safety.

Witnesses reported the water came in so fast it submerged rapidly-moving vehicles attempting to run ahead of it, forcing occupants to race to higher ground.

Frank Lapine, a Rutland taxi driver, said he saw the water coming down a highway "so fast it went over the top of a truck."

I saw the men get out of the truck and climb a telegraph pole. A boat rescued them."

The racing waters carried away the only two mains from the city's reservoir and officials said it might be several days before repairs could be made.

The Rutland Railroad was forced to cancel all services when its main line bridge north of Rutland collapsed and fell into East Creek, through which the flood waters coursed. Boston-Montreal service was suspended temporarily in both directions, but New York-Montreal trains were rerouted over the Delaware and Hudson Railroad.

2 Island Highway Bridges Planned

Tenders have been called by the provincial works department for the construction of two reinforced concrete bridges on the northern part of the Island Highway.

The bridges, to cost about $40,000 each, will be erected over Brunell Creek and Nanosee Creek at Nanosee. Tenders will close June 16.

The B.C. Forest Service has called tenders for the erection of a dwelling and other work at the Duncan Forest Experimental Station. Bids will close June 25.

Bullet Kills Suspect

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A burglary suspect was fatally wounded early today by a policeman called to investigate noises on the roof of a building. The victim was identified as Allan John Cameron, Portland.

Detective Sgt. D. J. Mitola said Patrolman C. L. Fitzsimmons reported seeing a man climb down the side of the scientific research building in East Portland and break into a run. The patrolman fired once without effect, then fired a second shot, which brought the man down.

Mitola said the roof showed evidence of an attempt to enter. A second man was believed involved.

Hungary, Russian Planes Barred From U.S. Zones

BUDAPEST (AP)—The United States legation here informed the Hungarian government today that planes of the Russian-Hungarian transport company Maszoviet no longer are being permitted to fly over the American zones of Austria and Germany because of lack of U.S. civil aviation rights in Hungary.

The announcement was delivered to the new premier, Lajos Dinnyes, and to Acting Foreign Minister Erno Mihalyci, both pro-Communist members of the Smallholders Party. It constituted a U.S. response to Russian and Hungarian hindrance of American air activities in Hungary during the last two years.

Egypt To Request British Evacuation Of Nile Valley

CAIRO (Reuter)—When the Anglo-Egyptian dispute comes before the United Nations, Egypt will demand immediate evacuation of British forces from the "Nile Valley," unconditionally by a military alliance with Great Britain, it is authoritatively stated. The Egyptian case, in fact, is contained on a single foolscap sheet.

Prime Minister Nokrasy Pasha, in his recent statement in parliament, said plainly that Egypt's case would be based on evacuation of the Nile Valley—Egypt and her Sudan. And in the further statement he issued a few days later he declared: "The British troops in the Sudan are the result of the earlier British occupation of Egypt. These troops have no more right to stay in the Sudan than they have to stay in Egypt."

Observers here presume this means Egypt will argue that, whatever the provisions of the 1899 Sudan condominium or the 1936 treaty, the continued presence of British forces either in the Suez Canal zone or in the Sudan is not in accordance with the spirit of the United Nations' charter, which provided that no country shall have troops on the territory of another against the desire of the government of that territory.

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Twelve crew members of the Canada Steamship Lines freighter Emperor, including Capt. Eldon Walkinshaw of Collingwood, Ont., were drowned or missing today after their 7,000-ton ship had struck Canoe Rocks, 45 miles southeast of this Lakehead city and at the eastern tip of Isle Royale. The vessel sank quickly after breaking in two.

One body, that of Mrs. E. Schultz, first cook, of Owen Sound, Ont., was brought to Fort William by the United States Coast Guard cutter Kimball, which also picked up 21 survivors of one of the Great Lakes worst marine disasters in recent years.

The cutter returned immediately to the scene to continue its search, but there was little hope any of the 12 missing might still be alive.

First Mate John Morley of Kingston, Ont., and second engineer William Currie of Toronto are also missing.

LUCKY RESCUES

It was only by chance the cutter happened to be 25 minutes' steaming distance—about 12 miles—when the Emperor struck the treacherous Lake Superior shoal in poor visibility at 3:10 a.m. C.D.T. She had been setting navigation lights on Isle Royale, a U.S. national park in Thunder Bay, and was returning to her base at Cleveland, Ohio, when the freighter's distress signals were picked up.

Lt. Clark said the freighter's crew of 33—she carried no passengers—had taken to their two lifeboats, but one of these was overturned when the Emperor plunged to the bottom, and a plug came loose in the second.

The Kimball rescued four men clinging to the overturned boat,

10 others huddled knee-deep in water in the second and seven, chilled and hanging precariously to rocks, about 1½ miles north of Isle Royale. The cutter found no others.

The 37-year-old, 525-foot freighter, which sailed from Port Arthur last midnight for Ashtabula, O., with a cargo of ore, sank in 50 feet of water in about five minutes, her hull apparently ripped open. Her foremast stuck out above the surface.

WORST IN FIVE YEARS

The disaster was the worst on the lakes since 1942, when 25 drowned in a launch sinking in Georgian Bay, 14 in a tug and 18 in a barge in Lake Erie. It was the first on Lake Superior in which there was loss of life since 1940 when the steamship Arlington sank in a gale with the loss of one crew member.

Since the turn of the century more than 100 ships have gone down on the Great Lakes and upwards of 2,000 seamen have lost their lives. The blackest year was 1913, when a two-day November storm wrecked 13 vessels and 248 drowned.

The worst year on Lake Superior was 1927, when the freighter Kamloops disappeared with 22 crewmen in a furious winter storm which wrecked five other ships with a loss of five more lives.

Dawsonites On Buying Spree After Arrival Of Ship With Food

DAWSON, Y.T. (CP)—It was shopping day in Dawson, far northern mining town on the Klondike River, as crowds overflowed stores purchasing their first fresh foodstuffs in weeks.

With blaring whistles, and cheers from the crowd-lined docks, the steamer Casca steamed in late Tuesday, bringing fresh supplies. It was the first vessel since freeze-up.

Dawson was without fresh meat and gasoline for two weeks and without potatoes for more than a month.

The last of the gasoline, which was flown in from Fairbanks, Alaska, sold for $1.50 a gallon, due to the charge of 16 cents a pound for the 290-mile air trip.

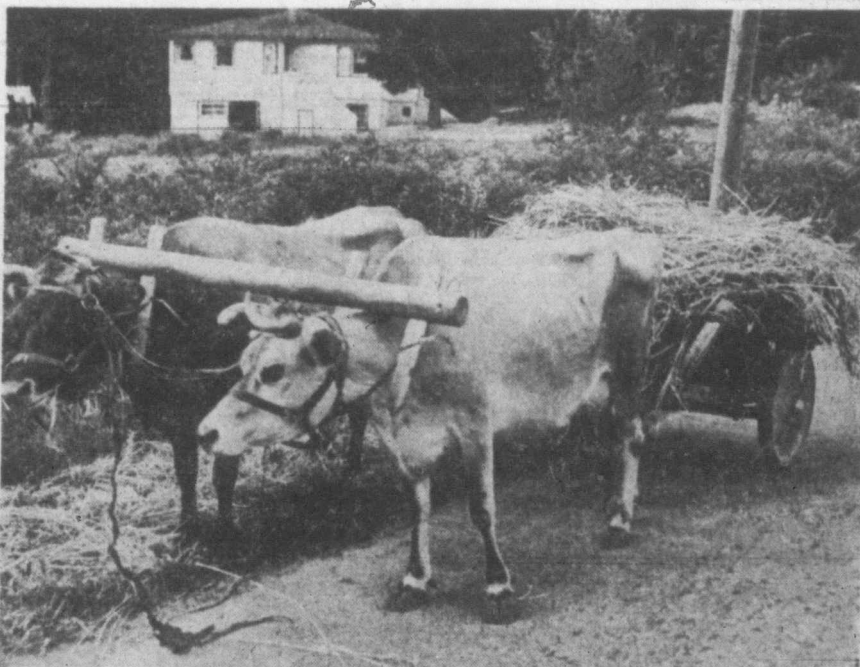

Residents still were worried over next winter's food supply, due to a backlog of undelivered freight from last year and increased demand by mining companies.

Braden Resigns U.S. State Dept. Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today announced the resignation of Spruille Braden as Assistant Secretary of State.

Braden is a former ambassador to Argentina and long was at the centre of controversy within the administration over United States-Argentine relations.

European Custom In Victoria

B. M. Willoughby, a Saanich farmer, is using his cows for dual purposes. He has fitted them to a yoke and between milking times employs them on farm chores. Times Cameraman Strickland saw them on the West Saanich Road Tuesday as they hauled the roadside hay back to the barns. Tourists were intrigued with the strange sight and Mr. Willoughby said three visitors had taken the cows' picture inside half an hour.

$1,000,000,000 5-Year Program For Australia Defence Planned

CANBERRA (CP)—Australia is to spend $250,000,000 ($1,000,000,000) during the next five years on peacetime defence plans, John J. Dedman, minister of defence, told the House of Representatives today.

These plans include:

An army of 69,000—including 19,000 permanent forces and 50,000 militia—all voluntarily recruited;

A navy of 14,753, with two light aircraft carriers, each carrying 36 planes;

An air force of 16 squadrons, comprising 144 aircraft, backed by 439 reserve aircraft and 698 aircraft for training and miscellaneous duties, with a total personnel of 12,625.

"Under the United Nations' organization it is fundamental to have a substantial reduction in armaments, but meantime reliance must primarily be placed on co-operation in Empire defence," Dedman said. "Having regard to Australia's limited resources, this allocation contains substantial elements towards the relief of the burden of Empire defence so long carried by the United Kingdom."

"At no time in history will Australia have made so great a peacetime contribution to British Commonwealth defence," he added.

"Reciprocally, Australia would have the right to similar representation on a similar basis on the corresponding machinery of the United Kingdom and New Zealand."

Dedman stated it was proposed to establish a naval base at Manus Island, in the Admiralty archipelago, north of New Guinea, and the government would welcome an arrangement for its joint use by the United States.

U.S. SENDS ADMIRAL

Observers linked Dedman's announcement with the projected visit to Australia of Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, commander of the United States Pacific Fleet, who is scheduled to arrive Saturday. A dispatch from Honolulu today said Denfeld was going to Australia "for a series of conferences on Pacific matters."

Manus is an Australian mandate, and the Australian position has been that the Commonwealth must retain its rights to use of the island, which it regards as vital to national defence. The United States is understood to have sought unrestricted use of the island as a principal U.S. naval base.

Horses Die In Fire

GRENVILLE, Que. (CP)—An early morning fire today destroyed a barn at the Arnoldswald farm, and 38 pedigreed horses, for which the farm is famous. Total loss is estimated at $100,000.

New Jersey Boss Hague To Retire

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague, whose fabulous career as a political leader carried into the modern scene the excitement and fire of another era, announced with sudden abruptness today his retirement from office.

The 71-year-old Democratic leader who fought his way out of the poorest district of Jersey City to become one of the United States' most durable and powerful Democratic figures told reporters hastily summoned to his City Hall chambers that he would step out as mayor on June 16—the 30th anniversary of his election to the post.

He will be succeeded by his nephew, Frank Hague Eggers, a city commissioner.

Hague said he was taking the step—long rumored but continually scoffed at by the city, county and state Democratic chieftains—because he felt "the time has come when, in justice to my city and my family, I must pass on the heavy burdens of administrative duties to younger men."

The mayor, who has sat with the political mighty for three decades but never aspired to any higher office than head of this city of 300,000 persons, announced, however, that he planned to continue as Democratic leader in the state and also would retain his post as national committeeman and vice-chairman of the National Democratic Committee.

Hague's long career as mayor of this city never has lacked for excitement and struggle. The firm, hard-hitting mayor loved a battle, political or otherwise, and never shied from meeting opposition head-on.

Although he never smoked or drank, Hague saw to it that one of his governors, Edward I. Edwards, made New Jersey "as wet as the Atlantic," and Hague himself was credited with writing the 1932 national platform plank that brought repeal on prohibition in the United States.

Once in control of the city Democratic organization, Hague's elections, as well as those of candidates he supported, were virtually "unanimous."

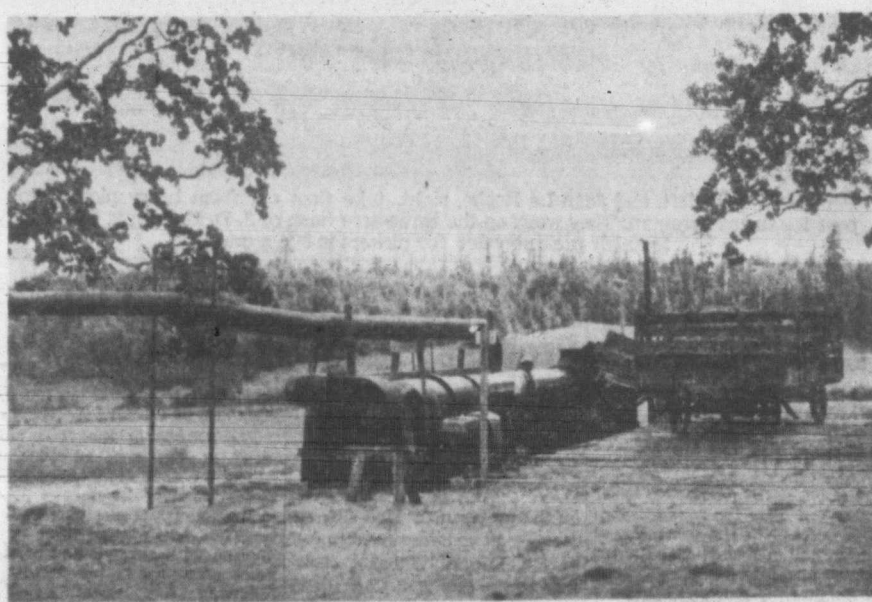

Once he was quoted as saying "I am the law" in discussing a juvenile delinquency case. The expression arose continually during his lengthy battle with the C.I.O. when the newly-organized industrial union was growing in strength in 1936.

A famous civil liberties case grew out of Hague's orders to have C.I.O. and left-wing speakers "escorted" out of the city in 1937. It was carried to the U.S. Supreme Court and the rights of free speech and assembly upheld.

Former Governor Has New Haying Method

Hon. W. C. Woodward, former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, is shown cutting hay on his farm, "Woodwynn," West Saanich Road. His chauffeur, Wes Strickland, operates the cutter from the rear seat.

Special hay drier, built in Victoria and first of its kind used on Vancouver Island, which conserves the vitamins in the new hay. The hay is brought direct from the field after cutting and placed in the machine, which is heated by oil. As the hay dries it is cut and blown through the large pipe to the hayloft, where it is stored. The cattle enjoy this type of hay as it is clean and fresh.

Research Council To Test Wood Of Cascara Trees For Laxative

The B.C. Research Council reported today plans for elaborate tests of the laxative qualities of an extract prepared from the wood of the cascara tree.

Up to the present only the bark of the cascara tree, common only in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, has been used in the preparation of the medicine. The provincial government here has estimated that because of the huge demand for cascara bark 90 per cent of the original cascara trees in the province have been destroyed.

To determine whether the wood of the cascara tree may be used as a new source of the laxative extract. The council's research program calls for the answering of the following questions:

1. How much extract does the cascara wood contain?

2. How does the laxative quality of the extract taken from the wood compare with that taken from the bark?

3. How does the value of the extract taken from the combined wood and the bark compare with that of the bark?

The research program is based on earlier work carried out by Dr. R. H. Clark of the University of British Columbia chemistry department. Dr. Clark's studies indicated cascara wood was a good potential source of the laxative extract.

Large quantities of the extract of the wood and bark of the cascara trees will be prepared in the chemical laboratories of the research council and clinical tests will be conducted with the co-operation of Vancouver General Hospital and the university-pharmacy department.

Dr. R. H. Wright, head of the council's chemistry division, stresses the need of obtaining a truly representative cross-section of B.C. cascara trees because of the wide variation in medicinal value between individual areas.

If the wood is found to be a valuable source of the laxative an important additional supply of cascara will be provided.

In addition, the council points out, commercial utilization of the wood as well as the bark would provide an incentive to cut the tree down rather than peel it while standing. Cut trees will grow again, providing further assurance of a continuing supply of cascara.

World consumption of cascara now requiring the destruction of an estimated 300,000 cascara trees each year mostly in B.C., Washington and Oregon.

Crooner Sinatra Pays $9,000 Balm

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—An assault charge against crooner Frank Sinatra by New York columnist Lee Mortimer was dismissed at Mortimer's request Tuesday, and the writer told newsmen Sinatra had agreed to pay him $9,000.

The charge was dropped by Judge Cecil D. Holland in Justice Court at the request of both sides in the case after Mortimer had read this statement to the court:

"Your Honor: My name is Lee Mortimer, and I am the complaining witness in this case, which involves an incident that occurred at Ciro's Restaurant on the night of the 8th of April, 1947.

"On my part, I acknowledge that I have received satisfaction for the injury done to me. Furthermore, Sinatra has publicly acknowledged that I did not call him the vile names he stated I called him.

"Under the circumstances, it is not my desire to proceed further with the prosecution of the case, and I ask Your Honor under the provisions of law to dismiss the case against Mr. Sinatra."

Prairie Man Ran
His Rain Machine—
And Rain CameREGINA (CP)—Regina district farmers today surveyed with delight fields soaked with .59 inches of precious moisture—and a 33-year-old handyman, Donald Johnston, said they could thank his rain-making machine for their good fortune.Johnston — shy, soft-spoken veteran whom rodeo fans at Swift Current asked to shut off his "universe" when rain interfered with their show in July, 1941—ran the foot-square machine late Tuesday for the first time this spring.He gave his demonstration on Regina's outskirts. He was posing for the Associated Press News. When bystanders pointed to large, black clouds forming shortly after he started his machine, he merely nodded his head confidently.Two hours later the city had its heaviest downpour this year.
Weather forecasters earlier had predicted "showers."The "universe," as the slight, unmarried Johnston calls it, has a solid steel frame and incorporates two horseshoe-shaped magnets. One of the magnets is fixed; the other revolves in a semicircle about it.

FROM THE MOON

Johnston said electrical power drawn from the moon by the machine's electro-magnetic field causes electrical changes in the atmosphere, affects condensation when clouds are overhead and thus brings rain.For the opportunity to "smash drought throughout the three prairie provinces," he wants only his expenses.Last winter, farmers at Cilmax, Sask., invited him to bring his machine to that district in the province's dry southwest. He is completing negotiations before he accepts their offer or one from Medicine Hat.In 1945 10 farmers in the Medicine Hat area paid his expenses to enable him to bring to their district the machine he had built in 1937 and which he estimates has cost in all about $500. Results were inconclusive, he said, because it was too late in the season.But this summer he will be out to prove the worth of the universe, and he intends to keep it running almost continuously.Canada Urged To Make Changes To Keep Ablest Youths In HomelandANTIGONISH, N.S. (CP)—A challenge to Canadian business to stem the exodus of Canadian youth to the United States was issued today by Neil MacNeil, assistant managing editor of the New York Times.MacNeil, in a speech at convocation ceremonies of St. Francis Xavier University here, also challenged members of the graduating class to remain in the country, saying that "Canada's future will be what Canadians make it.""Since Confederation more than 4,000,000 Canadians have crossed the border to stay," Mac-Neil told his audience, adding that perhaps a third of Canadian stock now was in the United States."Canada has supplied the United States with some of its ablest thinkers and administrators. In fact, you will find Canadians in every line of intellectual effort, for they rise to the top and hold their own with the best. They write American books, paint American pictures, compose American music."

WENT FROM NOVA SCOTIA

A Nova Scotian by birth, Mac-Neil graduated from St. Francis Xavier University some 35 years ago.He listed three major reasons for the United States' success in draining away the cream of Canada's trained youth:1. "In the United States the accent is still on youth. Americans are not afraid to give a young man a chance.2. "Americans are willing to pay well for intelligence in most fields of human activity... opportunities for the ambitious young man or woman of brainsand imagination are almost unlimited and he or she is welcome to make the most of them."3. "The United States offers unparalleled opportunities for workers in the creative arts... right now New York is probably in this respect the intellectual centre of the free world. It tends to outstrip the rest of the United States as well as Canada. There the brain worker gets both fame and fortune, and Americans do not begrudge him that which he wins on his ability. They are ready to honor talent as well as pay for it."MacNeil suggested remedies to decrease the "export of much of Canada's finest intelligence."

WIDER OPPORTUNITIES

"The Canadian employer must give young men and women a chance to make good. This means he must be prepared to welcome their enthusiasm and new ideas.
The directors of Canadian industry and Canadian institutions must place a higher value on brains, knowledge and judgment...""Canadians should give more encouragement to the creative arts and thus help their own workers in these fields and produce an indigenous culture."He said the process might begin in Canadian journalism."There has been improvement since I worked" on Canadian newspapers," he said, "but wage scales and working conditions are still far from what they should be... no man can think straight when his major concern is how he is going to survive... the journalist should be free from financial worries so he can concentrate on more important matters."Crowds, Lively Scenes Feature Saturday Nights In LondonLONDON (CP)—If you picture Britons as undernourished, enervated and exhausted, come to London on a Saturday night and watch them by the thousands kicking the gong around.Their week's meat ration may be eaten already and the pubs may turn them out early when the taps run dry, but the only signs of exhaustion are among the strangers who can't step as lively as the others, laughing, singing, hurrying in never-ending swarms.People from the suburbs come milling in for movies and dances, or just to wander around and see the sights, rubbing shoulders with regular West End habitués and week-enders from the country and provincial cities.

MEALS PROBLEM

From lunchtime on, it's hard to find an eating-place or even a street in the entertainment district that isn't packed with jostling people, but things really get down to business from 7 o'clock on.The lighted tunnels of countless amusement arcades luretheir shrill-voiced patrons, snatches of laughter and talk burst from the crowded pubs and the mournful noises of street musicians clang and jangle through the dark lanes.By 9 o'clock, when the theatres start discharging their audiences, the sidewalks radiating from Piccadilly Circus already bear almost as many people as they can. Those who aren't in a hurry giggle at the antics of those who are. Dignity is cast aside as gentlemen in evening dress hurl themselves into the honking streams of traffic and try to find an empty taxi.The pubs start closing at 10 o'clock. A few who've really applied themselves have worked up roaring drunks, but most of the toppers are in a mood to do something else. With double daylight saving, it's still light at that hour.So they rove the streets and squeeze into dance halls or cafes.
Most of these shut their doors at midnight and an hour or so later the streets begin to clear.
The patient policemen, a few couples arm-in-arm, the derelicts searching gutters, an occasional lurching drunk and women peering furtively from doorways have the city to themselves again.The biggest Saturday nights, of course, are after national sporting events that draw crowds from all over the country. Boat race night, after the Oxford-Cambridge boat race, is one such occasion.

TRAINS AT NIGHT

Cup ties and international matches add lots of color to grey old London. When Scotland plays
England at soccer, for example, buses and trains run all through the night bringing in crowds from the north.They sit up all night to get to London, ramble round seeing the sights all morning, pack Wembley to the last inch of space for the game, then swarm the streets again for "A bi' o' Lunnon night life."Long after midnight, if you stand on one of the streets leading to the Great North Road, you can see long lines of buses carrying the weary visitors home.

2 Policemen Charged

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Police Chief Robert P. Tracy suspended two of his policemen Tuesday and jailed them on suspicion of raping a 16-year-old high school girl.Booked for investigation were Robert George Bell, 27, and Edward E. Bauer, 31. Neither was eligible for bail.Tracy said a youth reported two policemen interrupted a petting party of the two Castle-mont high school students in a car on Skyline Boulevard behind Oakland Saturday night and forced their attentions on the girl.Both Bell and Bauer are married.The hippopotamus, giraffe and

WHAT OF THE P.G.E.?

SEVERAL TIMES DURING THE LAST year or so Mr. Hart has traveled to Ottawa and Montreal to discuss the future of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway with Mr. Mackenzie King and the officials of the two great transcontinental transportation systems. Judged by the reports of these conferences which the Premier has retailed to the people of British Columbia, both in the Legislature and to the press, the prospect of practical co-operation from the three external agencies is encouraging.

On his latest visit to the national capital and to the eastern metropolis the head of the coalition administration seems to have met with a cordial reception. But the public of this province is naturally beginning to ask how much stock can be placed in honeyed words. Not that the federal authorities or the heads of the two railway companies are treating lightly the proposals—whatever they may be—which Mr. Hart has made to them at various times. For it must be patent to Mr. King and to both Mr. Neal and Mr. Vaughan that only by the application of imagination in plans for new development in British Columbia can this last great frontier in the northwest portion of the American continent reach its destiny. To employ the vernacular, however, it would seem that we are getting nowhere fast.

As already suggested by Mr. Hart, and advocated in these columns on numerous occasions, the ideal plan would be a four-party arrangement in which the Dominion Government, the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National would share with this province the cost of completing the provincially-owned system to an area of British Columbia reputed to be immensely rich in natural resources. By the adoption of such a procedure, to put it simply, all would be investing in the future of a virtually unexplored portion of the country for the benefit of the whole nation. The question then immediately arises as to how Mr. King, for instance, could recommend his government's financial participation in such a scheme with any hope of approval by Parliament—particularly by members from the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario, or even from Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

This may be taking a gloomy view of the prospects. But the speculation persists. Has not the Premier of this province recently concluded a taxation agreement with the federal authorities which some members of the House of Commons and others consider much too generous? And, not to put too fine a point on it, it is fitting to ask to what extent the majority of Mr. King's supporters in the House of Commons would be likely to interest themselves in the future of this peculiarly British Columbia venture. These, after all, are plain questions which should not be ignored. The hard-headed realists of the eastern provinces have them in mind. Anyone who has discussed the matter with them soon becomes aware of their potency. Before Mr. Hart meets the Legislature early next year, however, the future of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway may have assumed a brighter hue.

In the meantime, of course, certain American interests are still toying with the idea of acquiring the provincially-owned system with the object of adding still another means of communication between United States territory south of the 49th parallel and Alaska for the purpose of facilitating overland trading relations. Another aspect of our neighbor's interest is specifically concerned with defence—a totally different matter and one in which the Dominion Government would be automatically involved if the authorities in Washington were to give the official nod. But it still is reasonable to suppose that the two major railway systems of Canada may be induced to come into the picture as shareholders in a venture on which the taxpayers of this province already have invested in the neighborhood of $100,000,000.

INVESTMENT IN HAPPINESS

ALL WHO HAVE SEEN THE VERY evident enjoyment with which senior citizens and other groups spend their health-improving vacations at Sunshine Camp, on the shores of Sooke Harbor, are unstinting in their praise of the institution. Through it many, who would otherwise lack a period of summer recreation, are given the joys of camp life. The competent staff and cheerful atmosphere, no less than the excellent facilities, make this a centre deserving support.

The camping season will be opened next Wednesday, with the arrival of elderly people, and from that day until late in the summer accommodation will be occupied by various groups to whom the Family Welfare Association plays host. The extent to which the camp will be used depends largely on the finances available to this agency from the Community Chest. Several groups are assured of a period there, but it would be possible to many more if further donations are received. That fact constitutes an invitation to those with something to spare to make an extra contribution to an agency which can invest it in a manner to produce high dividends in happiness and health among the less privileged.

INTERIM SECURITY

THE BRITISH DOMINION NEXT IN size to Canada, which for long, anxious months during the recent war lived in acute fear of imminent invasion, appears determined to ensure that such a situation does not arise again. According to Australian Defence Minister John J. Dedman, that country is preparing to make the "largest peacetime contribution to British Commonwealth defence" in its history.

The program includes a volunteer permanent army force of 19,000 and a militia totaling 50,000, a navy of nearly 15,000 with two light aircraft carriers, and an air force of 16 squadrons with a personnel of more than 12,000. But the active components of the three services are only a part of the Australian defence program. Ten per cent of the $1,000,000,000 it is planned to spend over the next five years will be devoted to research on guided rockets with atomic warheads and other scientific studies to take place in the wastelands of southern Australia. These long range plans call for establishment of a chain of bases in the Pacific, development of Sydney as the largest Commonwealth naval base, and other moves designed to make Australia "the keystone of defence" in the south Pacific.

The program has not been initiated in disregard of the United Nations and all that this organization implies. In the words of Mr. Dedman, "Under the United Nations Organization it is fundamental to have a substantial reduction in armaments, but meantime reliance must primarily be placed on co-operation in Empire defence."

With the possibility that India may leave the Empire, the position of Australia becomes still more isolated, and there will be wide sympathy with her desire to provide protection against aggression as well as to relieve in some measure "the burden of Empire defence so long carried by the United Kingdom." That such a program is to be implemented with full recognition of its temporary nature in the event of world security being guaranteed through the United Nations, should recommend it to all who wish to see the ramparts of democracy fully manned as long as the need for defence exists.

THE LONG VIEW

PROBABLY AT NO TIME IN HISTORY have nations been faced with sharper and more portentous economic decisions than they must make during these critical days; and in most cases the solution is based on the balancing of immediate gains against the more speculative advantages of the long-term view.

In Britain, for example, the decision had to be made between importation of food and other goods for immediate consumption, and importation of goods in the form of machinery and raw materials which could be combined in the production of manufactured commodities. The latter commodities then become the subject of a second decision—whether to use them at home or export them in payment for still more foreign goods, until the profits from such trade enable Britain to pull herself out of her economic quagmire. For France, the dilemma has been much the same. France can buy United States coal for $20 a ton, $12 of which goes for transportation charges. By reducing her coal purchases, France would be able to spend more American dollars on food and other badly-needed imports. But by importing coal she can step up her production, which in turn will mean she will have more goods to export, as well as to consume at home. By means of a temporary belt-tightening, as Britain chose, France is preparing herself for a higher standard of living at a later date.

In the United States itself a decision is shaping, as leaders ponder the problem of whether to write off American loans to Europe as "gifts" and thus speed the recovery of Europe as a steady market, or whether to insist on payment and reap any immediate benefit that may accrue. Many similar instances may be found in the world economy of today.

Canada, too, has been solving such problems. There is, for example, sound business as well as altruism in our huge shipments of foodstuffs abroad, even though this means that we ourselves must cut down home consumption of certain lines. For the postwar situation left golden opportunities for Canada to get her products into markets where they had not been before—and then to keep those markets if she could. We chose the long-term policy of curtailment of home consumption in hopes of future advantage.

The nations of today cannot afford to be shortsighted in their economic policies. It has become an age in which it is preferred to "take the credit and let the cash go" in the expectation of better things to come.

STILL TRYING

THE NAME OF BRITAIN'S ERSTWHILE Fascist leader—Sir Oswald Mosley—has popped into the news again. The once-ambitious would-be Fuehrer, who found that street gang fighting and colored shirts did not appeal to Englishmen, has been living in obscurity since his release from the prison where he was kept while Britain was busy fighting external enemies.

Now a news dispatch reveals that Mosley has been denied a passport to go to France for a "warm water swim" to treat his thrombosis. We can understand this gentleman's frustrated anxiety to be a one-man political machine, but this constant yearning to be in hot water is something that he should overcome.

The Call For Schools

TWO WEEKS AND ONE DAY hence, ratepayers of Greater Victoria will register their decision at the polls on this community's five-year school building program. From a monetary point of view, the proposed undertaking is the most ambitious in the district's educational history. It entails an expenditure of approximately $2,000,000. That sum will be paid off in annual instalments over 20 years. Technical financing is based on a highly advantageous arrangement under which the city, municipalities and rural districts will enjoy low interest rates.

The capital to be raised by the community will be matched by an equal amount provided by the provincial government under terms of the school legislation passed at the last session of the Legislature.

FOR THE MONEY, the district will secure a new Central Junior High School, costing $954,000, a vocational-technical building, costing $159,000, a $530,000 junior high school for Oak Bay, a $636,000 junior high school on Topaz Ave., a $487,600 junior high on Lansdowne, a $275,600 high school at Esquimalt, a $42,400 elementary school at Cadboro Bay, a $58,300 elementary school at View Royal and a $74,200 primary school at Macdonald Park. In addition, $175,000 worth of furniture and equipment will be supplied, $34,125 worth of property will be acquired, and $487,600 additions will be made to existing buildings at Victoria High, Strawberry Vale, Mt. View High and Mt. Douglas High.

THE ABOVE ARE salient facts in condensed form listed to show costs and the physical assets which will be created. The new construction is necessitated by many factors. In the city itself, for instance, no material school building has been done for more than 15 years. The average age of city schools is 35 years, and one, Central Junior High, is over 70. The degree of obsolescence in Victoria is emphasized by the fact that in 1931 the greater community had a population of 58,364. By the last ration book count, it is now fixed at approximately 102,000. In 1931 the student population was 4,900. Present estimates set it at 9,700, virtually doubling the total 16 years ago. On the basis of natural increase, another 1,500 pupils will be attending school in 1951.

THESE ARE INESCAPABLE developments which underscore the need for greater accommodation. They tell a material story only. With it must be considered the implications of modern trends in the education of generations growing up in a world infinitely more complex than that served by the little red school house. This point has not escaped the attention of the authorities. Present day curricula have been compiled to equip the young people more adequately for the problems they face. This has entailed course expansions which cannot be conducted successfully with present facilities.

IT IS NOT THE PURPOSE of the school authorities to attach unnecessary frills to education. It must be remembered, however, that what was once considered non-essential in the instruction of the young is now a vital part of their equipment for leading a life made more complicated by conditions over which they have no control.

The emphasis in connection with junior high schools will be noted particularly in this connection. Through broader facilities for the specific instruction available in such institutions, the maturing student has the opportunity to match his mental and physical growth with the expanded courses available under the arrangement. At the same time the department is assisted in providing specialized teachers for the boys and girls within the junior high age category.

THE PRIMARY consideration of those who have drafted the building program, of course, has been the improvement of conditions for the school children themselves. Of more than passing significance, on the other hand, has been the attention given to the planning of structures which will fill a more generous community purpose. Auditoriums and gyms have been designed to accommodate groups beyond school age after school hours. In that capacity they should serve an exceedingly valuable purpose in districts lacking such facilities.

Nor will expenditure on the new projects be without compensation of a definite nature. The creation of the buildings will relieve some districts of expensive student transportation charges unavoidable now where schools do not exist. Revenue may also be expected from the rental of those premises suitable for public use.

MORE IMPORTANT than any other argument which can be advanced, of course, is the direct responsibility on the adult population of this area to see that every possible facility is made available for the development of the future generation. No community can expect vitality, honesty and high citizenship in the future if it fails to make full provision for the development of character in its young people. Education cannot, by itself, cure all the ills of the world. But it can provide the approach to the solution of those ills. The ratepayers of the Greater Victoria School District will be mindful of that fact on June 19 when they express their opinions on the ballot form. The decision they must reach is one of magnitude. And the forces of progress must marshal themselves to register a three-fifths majority if the essential objective of new schools is to be achieved.

'Me? Oh, I'm Just Part Of War's Futility'

International Co-operation And World Recovery

By WICKHAM STEED

A QUESTION often asked and never conclusively answered is whether the present state of the world is intrinsically worse than it was two years after the end of the first World War. No satisfactory answer may be possible; yet some points of comparison merit consideration.

When we hear of chronic undernourishment if not actual hunger in western Germany, of recurring political and economic crises in Italy, of persistent terrorism in Palestine, and of failure of the great powers to agree at Moscow upon any constructive policy for the future of Europe, we are apt to suppose that the outlook now is far more sombre than it was in the autumn of 1920.

DIFFERENCE OF DEGREE

A vivid recollection of those days inclines me to believe that though the dimensions of the present world crisis are larger than they were in the critical years after the first World War they are not necessarily less susceptible of remedial treatment. The difference between then and now is rather a difference of degree than of kind; and if some present difficulties appear forbidding, there are also healthier signs of improvement than any which could be discerned in the early 20's of this century.

Not for 10 or 12 years after 1919 was the root cause of the severe economic and financial crises of 1929-1931 fully perceived. Nations and governments failed to realize that some $40,000,000,000 worth of accumulated wealth could not be shot away, or otherwise used for destructive purposes, without causing widespread dislocation and impoverishment. They did not see that the comparative well-being of the decades before 1914 could only be regained by co-operative and constructive international effort over a period longer than that of the war itself.

ISOLATIONISM

The United States withdrew

into isolation behind a wall of prohibitive tariffs and sought to collect war debts from Europe. Other nations, without the resources of the United States, sought to become equally self-sufficient. Italy moved towards aggressive nationalism in the form of Fascism. Germany passed through one crisis after another until Hitler's Nazism solved her unemployment problem by rearmament in deliberate preparation for war. Neither France nor Britain escaped the grave economic difficulties. Long before 1939 the outbreak of a second World War could be clearly foreseen.

Today the prospects seem to me potentially if not intrinsically less sombre. Though the dissipation of wealth in the Second World War was far greater than it had been in the first, the period of recovery must consequently be more prolonged. No nation, not even the wealthiest or the most powerful, now believes that it is or can be self-sufficient. There is a more real and a more general recognition of the fact that all nations are and must remain interdependent. If they would escape irreparable disaster, while it is by no means certain that this recognition will foster fruitful co-operation among all of them, it may prompt co-operation among enough of them to check disintegration and gradually to create conditions favorable to lasting improvement.

TEMPORARY DISTRESS

The acute food crisis in western Germany, now engaging the urgent attention of the United Kingdom and United States governments, seems to me a temporary rather than a permanent symptom of distress. Some way of dealing with it will be found even if a final solution may depend upon a tolerable settlement of the difficulties which the Moscow Conference of Foreign Ministers failed to overcome. Similar considerations apply to the complications in southeastern

Europe and in parts of the Middle East. Here a new factor may come into play through application of the Truman policy, designed to give aid to Greece and Turkey, which has been approved by majorities of nearly three to one in both Houses of the United States Congress. Whether and to what extent this factor will also influence developments in Italy is an open question. The Italian Republic is now bearing the full cost of the ill-conceived adventure in which monarchist Italy forsook the principles of its own Risorgimento, and permitted megalomaniac Fascism to undermine the foundation of healthy national life.

Among the drawbacks of the Italian position is the loss of Italy's former African colonies. Even should she be allowed to keep an interest in one of them, Eritrea, her desire to regain a hold on Tripolitania and Cyrenaica conflicts with the awakening spirit of Arab nationalism in North Africa and throughout the Middle East. This spirit has been manifest in the Special Assembly of the United Nations, convened at the request of Britain to consider the question of Palestine. Slight though the prospect may be that the committee, appointed to enquire into it and to report to the General Assembly by September 1, will recommend a feasible policy, the enquiry should help to show the Palestinian problem in its true terms as an integral part of the position in the Middle East.

CORRECTIVE INFLUENCE

This would be a distinct advantage. The misleading view that the trouble in Palestine arises solely from British resistance to unrestricted Jewish immigration might give place to an understanding of wider bearings of Jewish and Arab claims. Then perhaps, in Palestine as elsewhere, international co-operation might be revealed as the best if not the only means of promoting the recovery of the world.

Letters To The Editor

DISPLACED PERSONS

With reference to the statement that our government is bringing in 1,400 D.P.'s from Europe to work in the Ontario woods, also your excellent editorial "Room for More" in Friday's Times.

The opposition certain sections of organized labor are offering to this timely act of mercy and national far-sightedness is so unchristian that I feel they cannot realize the import of what they are doing.

The social side of Christianity teaches: "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you." The opposition on the part of these organized workers is especially unwarranted now, because they have for the past seven years been able to pick and choose their jobs, and to draw down high wages. On the other hand these unfortunate D.P.'s have been driven forcibly from their homes and forced to work for starvation wages; and now have no work and no wages at all, but are rotting in camps, kept by charity.

If tiny, overcrowded Great Britain can take 200,000 of these D.P.'s, as she is doing, Canada ought to be willing to take a million.

A. STILEMAN.

PROTESTS ARENA BODY

I must protest. The spirit of the Arena By-law has been violated in the appointment of John Baxter, the Mayor's secretary, as a member of the Arena Commission. The Mayor and council are asking for pretty fine-drawn patience on the part of the public in expecting them to tolerate so subtle an influence from civic administration, as an entity so closely knit with town deliberations. In the appointments of Mr. Olson and Mr. Pendray we have two gentlemen absolutely opposed to civic ownership—two gentlemen who took no pains to hide their opinion—that only private enterprise was properly fitted and blessed to operate so large and vital a project as the Arena.

How the Mayor and council visualized a commission divided by philosophy would work out the destiny of a publicly-owned project is a matter of speculation. It would seem public interest, public enterprise, and public ownership, were doomed forever to be farmed out to the wrong parentage.

Surely the civic fathers would realize the public as a whole is more than anxious and able to take care of and bring up its own baby. I feel a most searching inquiry

T. D. F. of the Ottawa Citizen
"Another thing the Communists don't tell us," observes the Brockville Recorder, "is that milk sells in Moscow for the equivalent of 90 cents a quart." But maybe they don't know that; very few of our Communists have ever been in Russia.

BOYS TRAIN FOR KITCHEN

Norway Digest
Recognizing that circumstances often modify the old adage about "a woman's place being in the home," education authorities in the Norwegian town of Levanger have reasoned that the man too must be prepared to step into the kitchen when necessary. They have therefore decided that all seventh grade boys in Levanger schools must take three hours training in domestic science each week. No thrill for Viking ice-box raiders nowadays.

PRIVATE INVESTORS

Winnipeg Free Press
The Russian government, while constantly attacking the investors of foreign nations, appears to be mightily interested in making investors of Russian citizens. This year, at least, it is floating a large government loan which the people are asked to buy and thus establish themselves as minor capitalists—and this at a time when all capitalism is daily described in the Russian press and radio as a plot against the common man in general and the Russian state in particular.

HAPPY MAJORITY

Halifax Herald
The great majority of the war brides who have successfully adapted themselves to new homes in a new land are naturally less conspicuous than the handful who were misled by their husbands or who were entirely unsuitable. It is not surprising that some of these cases should occur. They happen from time to time in civil life and can happen just as easily among service people. But the important thing is that the vast majority are happily married, are becoming good Canadians, and playing their part in the life of this country.

THE PESSIMIST

The Times of London
You cannot—it is the most negative of his irksome attributes—be sure of identifying him in advance. Sometimes, it is true, the terrible burden that he bears has furrowed his brow, drawn down the corners of his mouth, sickled his features with a spectral pallor. But more often than not nothing in his mien proclaims the herald of disaster. He may even—plucky fellow—look cheerful; almost smug. This (as it were) protective coloring is our undoing. We lend him a match with the short-lived nonchalance of an explorer stepping on what looked like a log.

Few give in to the pessimist without a struggle; but attempts to stem the flood of doom are seldom impressive. It is only when the chance encounter with the tiresome fellow is ended that there flashes into mind the unanswerable argument, the irrefutable proof that he was talking through his hat. If what he said was right, if his prophecies were true, it follows that these are the Good Old Days. Which is impossible. If only we had thought of it in time. . . .

They Did Not Like It

Newspaper World
A photographic feature which recently appeared in Picture Post presenting General de Gaulle and Hitler together has been the subject of adverse criticism in French circles.

According to a Reuter message from Paris, Rene Massigle, the French ambassador in London, has conveyed to Mr. Bevin the view that the article was "in bad taste." M. Massigle, it is stated, said he was not making a formal protest since the British government had no control over the publication of the paper.

The newspaper of the French M.R.P. Party, L'Aube, printed an article by the party's general secretary, M. Maurice Schumann, who accused Picture Post of "suggesting by means of a photographic setting more disloyal than any actual faking, a parallel between Hitler and the man who, by preserving the continuity of France, saved at the same time the continuity of the Franco-British Alliance."

Mr. Tom Hopkinson, editor of Picture Post told the Newspaper World he had no comment to make about the French reaction to the feature.

should be effected into the reasons for such obvious disregard for public wishes—displayed, as you know, by the passage of the Arena By-law.

Gallup Poll

Enforced Voting Disliked
By 51 Per Cent Of Canadians

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

Penalizing citizens who will not vote would be a greater evil than having electors who neglect to exercise their franchise.

This is the more prevalent opinion among Canadians interviewed in the latest Gallup poll on compulsory voting.

An accurate cross-section of adult Canadians were consulted by reporters of the institute:

"In Australia, people are made to pay a fine if they do not vote on election day. Do you think the Canadian government should make people pay a fine of say $5.00 if they do not vote at federal elections?"

THE RESPONSE

Yes, impose fine.....41%
No.....51%
Undecided.....8%

Weight of opinion in Ontario and Quebec is slightly in favor of fining those who will not vote.
In the Maritimes and all the western provinces, a heavier than average proportion are opposed to the idea.

No notable differences of attitudes for and against are found among the different age groups or the various income classes of the sample of people polled.

In the large cities the weight of opinion favors the suggested fine. Farm and smaller urban communities average a majority opposed.

It is possible that more residents of large cities are disturbed on the matter than rural and smaller city people, because they are aware of the higher than average proportion of large city dwellers who neglect to vote in Dominion general elections.

Indian Emblem
Chosen By Club

Members of the recently-formed Victoria Electric Club, at a luncheon meeting in the Strathcona Hotel Tuesday, chose
"Haletlik, the Lightning Snake"
as their club emblem.

The various aspects of the emblem were explained by H. S.

C. Archbold, director. In the stories of the Vancouver Island Nootka Indians, Haletlik was a weapon carried by the mythical Thunderbird, and was believed to have brought good luck to the Nootkas in their whale hunts off the west coast.

The club will use the emblem in all official club stationery and it is planned to have lapel buttons made carrying the emblem.

A sign bearing the figure of Haletlik will be placed in the Strathcona Hotel.

The members reached their decision on the club emblem after research by Dr. Clifford Carl, provincial museum director, and Mr. Archbold.

At the meeting Tuesday, Alex Wilson, Northern Co., showed members a film which depicted slow motion effects of modern photography.

Sioux Falls High School Band To Play At Armories June 12

Seventy-five piece of High School Band of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, which will present two concerts at the Bay Street Armories on June 12 under sponsorship of Victoria Lions Club.

Cited by many as the "best band of its kind," the Sioux Falls High School Band, South Dakota, is now making an International Summer Concert Tour through the southwest and west coast American states and the four western Canadian provinces. The band will appear in Victoria on June 12, and will give two concerts at the Bay Street Armories under the sponsorship of the Victoria Lions Club.

The first band at this high school was organized 18 years ago by Arthur R. Thompson who is the conductor and manager of the present band. The early achievements of the band soon earned it an international reputation. This reputation and the popularity of the band has increased over the years.

The band has served as the official band of South Dakota on three important occasions: The Chicago World's Fair in 1933, the New York World's Fair in 1939 and the Canadian Good Will Tour in 1941. After hearing their first three concerts at the fair, the New York World's Fair officials conferred a unique distinction on the group by appointing the band to be the official organization of the fair to play in the Court of Peace reception for King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

Members of the band consider the present international tour the fourth big event in the history of the band. During the tour they will travel 6,000 miles, and will play at 50 concerts in principal cities. The band consists of 50 girls and 25 boys. The symphonic equipment of the band is valued at $25,000.

The band will give two performances in this city. In the afternoon a special concert for school-age children will be given. Admission will be 10 cents. In the evening, starting at 8:15, a concert for adults will be presented. All proceeds of the concert will go toward Lion Charities which include the construction of "sunset cottages" for old-age couples, the maintenance of a Boy Scout troop and funds for blue babies.

Officers Elected By Scout Committee

J. Murdock was elected president at the annual meeting of the parents' group committee of Victoria's oldest active Scout troop, 3rd Victoria. Mrs. Marge A. Hurst was elected vice-president and G. Woodridge, secretary-treasurer.

This group is also the only one in Victoria that sponsors a rover crew along with a scout troop of 28 scouts and their pack of 33 cubs.

Final plans were discussed for the dance tonight at the Sirocco, for the purpose of raising funds to help send scouts and cubs to camp this summer.

A meeting of the group, has been called for June 16 to arrange for transportation of boys to camp.

Trades Council Likely To Discuss Polish Labor

The importation of Polish women to work in Quebec textile mills, although not on the agenda of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, is expected to be debated at length at the council meeting tonight.

What action the council would take was not known today.

Meanwhile the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council is critical of the importation of Polish women to Canada by an "industrialist" to work in Quebec textile mills and has endorsed a mail-and-telegram campaign against allowing "sweet labor" into the country.

A protest in the strongest possible terms will be sent to Prime Minister King, Labor Minister Mitchell and British Columbia members of Parliament. The Trades and Labor Council of Canada also will be urged to start a national protest movement.

Dullest Session In History Ends For Union Of South Africa House

CAPETOWN (CP)—The dull, est parliamentary session in the Union of South Africa's 37 years draws to a close today. Since the session began in mid-January, no worthwhile legislation has been produced.

Overriding the annual grumbles has been the country's color problem. Prime Minister Smuts' gesture of giving the Indians indirect communal representation by restricting land tenure caused him trouble abroad and at home.

A year ago, the Dominion Party—an extreme, pro-British element—seemed an utterly spent force. But its all-out, anti-Indian policy found some support from the government benches during the session. This seems to promise the party more of a voice in the 1948 election than previously indicated. Debates indicated at least the color question will be the chief issue in the coming election.

The line-up shows the Dominion and Nationalist parties opposing, and Field Marshal Smuts has discovered within his own ranks right-wingers who altogether oppose any Indian representation in Parliament, believing the Indians entitled to minimum rights only.

Besides the centre, which supported the legislation, there are the less numerous left-wingers in the government ranks who have declared their belief in Indian representation and have called the Asiatic Land Tenure Act bad legislation.

The Nationalist, Dominion and Labor parties have all criticized the government for being slow in implementing its rehabilitation promises to returned soldiers, in providing housing and in its handling of economic controls.

Return To Victoria To Make Their Home

Mrs. James Thow, with Lynn, age 13, on the right, and Ian, age 9, returned to Victoria from Ottawa recently with Mr. Thow, new manager of the Bank of Commerce here. Mrs. Thow and her sons are well known in the city, having lived here for nearly 10 years when Mr. Thow was accountant at the bank. At present the Thows are staying at the Empress Hotel.

Vows Taken By Sisters
In Double Wedding Today

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frenette, Victoria, formerly of Spiritwood, Sask., walked down the aisle of St. Andrew's Cathedral this morning at 10 to exchange wedding vows before Father J. L. Blanchfield. Miss Irene becoming the bride of Bernard Dalziel, only son of Mrs. A. Dalziel, Victoria, and the late B. B. Dalziel, and Miss Martha, the bride of Kenneth Quagliotti, son Mrs. Stewart Wise, 208 Dobinson Street, and the late Mr. Quagliotti.

Similar full-skirted gowns of shining satin, slightly en train, with sweetheart necklines and lily-point sleeves were worn by the brides, Miss Martha, given in marriage by her father, and Miss Irene, by George MacDonald. Twin coronets of orange blossoms held their chapel veils of embroidered net and red roses were predominant in their Colonial bouquets.

Miss Martha Frenette chose as bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Rachel Frenette, who was gowned in pink and carried a corsage bouquet of rosebuds. Her groom was attended by her brother, Albert Frenette.

Miss Evelyn Coles, in pastel blue, with corsage bouquet of roses attended Miss Irene Frenette, and Jack Smith was best man for Mr. Dalziel.

"Ave Maria" was sung by Jack Willey and Miss M. McKay played the wedding music.

North Ward Community Hall was the scene of the reception, where both couples cut their own three-tier wedding cakes. Mothers of the couples and Mrs. J. Frenette, Sr., grandmother of the brides, assisted in receiving guests.

Seattle is the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Quagliotti, who will return to make their home at Cobb Lane. For traveling, the bride chose a black suit with dressmaker detailing, crisp white accessories and corsage bouquet of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalziel will hymoon in Vancouver, and on their return plan to take up residence on Graham Street. A light brown checked suit fashioned with dolman sleeves, yellow topcoat, all-brown accessories and corsage bouquet of roses, were

Member Of Pioneer
Family Wed Monday

Monday evening at 8, Miss Alice Marie Rodgers, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Rodgers, 767 Island Highway, Langford, and youngest granddaughter of Mrs. Sydney G. Brown, a member of one of Langford pioneer families, entered St. Matthew's Church, Langford, escorted by her father, for her marriage to Colin Arthur Beddall Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Smith, Colwood.

Gleaming slipper satin fashioned with dainty lace yoke, and satin flounces on the full skirt slightly en train, was worn by the bride. Orange blossoms trimmed her Mary Stuart headpiece which held her full-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of roses and pastel blossoms.

Miss Lorna Rodgers, attending her sister, wore ice-blue satin beneath a triple skirt of nylon net, topped with satin peplum. Her bouquet was of pink carnations and sweet peas.

Keith Smith was best man for his brother and ushers were Robert Charnell and Walter Gwyer.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. N. Bertucci, who sang "O, Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Officiating minister, Rev. G. H. Greenhalgh, Port Alberni, proposed the toast to the bride, at a reception at Colwood Hall. Guests were received by the young couple assisted by Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Smith.

On return from the honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will take up residence at Arbutus Road, Colwood. For her traveling costume the bride chose a navy blue topcoat over a rose suit with navy hat and handbag.

Blossoms From Mother's Veil Used In Bridal Headdress

Orange blossoms worn by her mother on her wedding day were used by Miss Barbara Ruth "Betty" Petch, Monday at 8.30 to hold her veil of illusion net which misted over a softly draped gown of satin, with drop shoulderline, yoke of illusion net and full skirt, with brief train, when she became the bride of Donald Ernest Turner, stoker (fc.) R.C.N., stationed aboard H.M.C.S. Givenchy.

A double strand of pearls was also worn by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Meredith Petch, 878 Newport Avenue, given in marriage by her father. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations and swansons.

Miss Laurel Leigh, New Westminster, chose pastel blue jersey silk with tiny cap sleeves and gathered skirt, for her role as maid of honor. Little Sally Gardom was flower girl, wearing powder blue crepe de chine.

Charles Tokoe as groomsmen, and ushers, John Barker and Ralph Adolphe, are all serving in the Royal Canadian Navy, with the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances O. Turner, Perdue, Sask.

Red and white blooms decked Victoria Truth Centre for the service read by Rev. Emma M. Smiley. Miss Eileen Dumbleton was pianist and Miss Beverly Findler, soloist.

Cmdr. H. W. S. Soulsby, R.C.N. (Rtd.), proposed the toast to the bride at the reception where Mrs. Petch and Mrs. E. Downie assisted in welcoming guests. The three-tier wedding cake was made and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. N. Peterson. Serviteurs were Misses Sylvia Petch, Margaret Angus, Marilynne Berry, Rosemary Hurst, Hilda Soulsby, Margaret Cameron, Helena Derman and Eileen Watkins.

For the honeymoon on the mainland, the bride chose a light summer suit with off-white three-quarter-length coat, red and white accessories, and corsage bouquet of red rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. Turner will reside at 936 Collinson Street.

SHORTCOMINGS WAVED AWAY DURING COURTSHIP OFTEN BRING POST-MARRIAGE WOES

The "before-and-after-taking" effect of marriage has a familiar, but always pathetic, illustration in a tearful letter that I have just received from a bride. She says that in the days of courtship she told her fiancé that she had gone from the schoolroom into a business office, and that she had had no domestic training whatever. She could handle her boss's income tax with one hand tied behind her, but she hadn't the slightest idea of whether she should buy a whole sheep or a quarter of lamb for a Sunday roast for two.

To these frank confessions of her shortcomings as a potential wife, the Boy Friend grandly replied: "Tut, tut! Don't give it a thought. What of it if you don't know how to cook? It doesn't matter when we love each other so much. Besides, learning how to cook is no trick at all. You'll pick it up in no time."

And so, as the fairy tale says, they were married and they lived happily ever afterwards. For when romance collided with the kitchen stove, it blew up as if it had been hit by an atomic bomb. To her consternation, the bride discovered that love isn't enough on which to found a happy home, and that when a hungry man comes home at night he craves something good to eat. Instead of high-flown sentiment, also that if the doesn't get it, his theme song changes from "How Beautiful and Wonderful You Are" to the "Kind of Pie Mother Used to Make."

PLUNGING WITHOUT THINKING

Whether men really think that a knowledge of how to cook comes by nature, as Dogberry thought reading and writing did, no woman ever knows, for their attitude towards the matter shifts on the different sides of the altar. Before marriage they ignore the subject, or wave it airily aside as of no importance. You never hear of a youth asking a girl before he pops the question whether she can make biscuits that are not first aid to stomach ulcers, and whether she can brew coffee that doesn't taste like something Lucrezia Borgia concocted.

No. Men take it for granted before marriage that every girl is practically born with a set of pots and pans in her mouth, and that she knows by instinct how to give a star performance of the most complicated profession in the world. And when he finds that she can't even boil water without scorching it, he says things that no bride should ever have to hear. Many a woman salts down her honeymoon in her tears while she is learning how to cook.

APPEARANCES CHANGE

But cooking isn't the only thing that makes marriages a guessing game because its effects upon the high contracting parties are so different before and after taking. There is looks, for one thing. Before marriage a lad would not dream of presenting himself before the Girl Friend unless he was shaven and shorn and pressed and perfumed and was something to ravish any maiden's fancy. But after marriage he expects his wife to enjoy looking at him when he has a two-days' stubble of beard on his face and is sitting on the back of his neck, with his shoes off resting his feet. Ditto about women. Likewise many a woman who caught her husband by her smart clothes loses him after marriage by looking like something the cat brought in a home.

And think how talkative and entertaining husbands and wives are before marriage and how dumb afterwards! How they change from yes-yessers to no-noers! How they turn from flatterers into faultfinders!

No wonder marriage is called a gamble, for nobody knows what they are getting until after they have gotten it.

P.T.A. News

Victoria West—Maurice Hallam was elected president of Victoria West P.T.A. at the annual meeting held Monday. Other officers are R. Kipling, vice-president; Mrs. W. Spedding, secretary; L. Roach, treasurer; Mrs. Holroyd, Mrs. W. Jenkins, Mrs. G. Raven, Messrs. H. Keiser, J. Abbott and W. S. Chater, executive committee. C. F. Banfield installed officers and addressed the meeting. The school principal R. T. Kipling, made presentations on behalf of the association to the retiring president, Mrs. H. Holroyd and the retiring treasurer, J. Dee. Plans were made for a school sports day on June 18 with graduations exercises on June 25.

Asparagus Tips

When asparagus is to be served in pieces, cut off the tips and reserve them. Cook the lower ends of the stalks for 10 minutes, then add the tips and cook five minutes longer. This cut asparagus may be served in cream sauce.

If the stalks are to be served whole, they should be cooked in an upright position, in a small amount of boiling salted water so that the tips will be above the water and will be steamed rather than boiled as they require very little cooking. Any narrow and rather tall container that will hold the asparagus in an upright position will do very well. The coffee pot and the upper part of the double-boiler are most suitable. Like all vegetables, asparagus, to be at its best, should be cooked and eaten as soon as possible after picking or purchasing. If keeping it in the crisper, wash and dry the stalks, for if moisture clings to the tips, they will very quickly become slimy.

Asparagus does not always need to be cooked; it is delicious thinly sliced raw in a salad.

Not Insulted

The fact Premier Drew thinks her brother, Henry Wallace, is "wooly-headed" doesn't upset Mrs. Ruth Wallace Wijkman, wife of the Swedish envoy, in the slightest, she said in an interview during her visit in Toronto. "Of course I don't feel insulted," she laughed, commenting on the recent incident when Drew assailed Wallace's beliefs at a luncheon attended by Mrs. Wijkman. "I believe in free speech. Every man is entitled to his own opinion." "Did you really blush when he made his comments?" "I don't know," she chuckled. "I couldn't see myself. Besides, I don't remember anyone calling it to my attention." "What do you think of your brother?" "Well," she answered, "what does any sister think of her eldest brother? Is that safe enough?" Mrs. Wijkman parried.

Garden Party—At the recent meeting of the Strawberry Vale School playground committee, plans were made to hold a garden party on June 11 at the home of Mrs. E. Cummins, North Road. Proceeds from the affair will be used to carry on with the playground at Strawberry Vale School.

Chemainus—The meeting of Chemainus P.T.A. was held recently with Charles Savoury presiding. Mrs. Agnes Milligan reported on the sports day and it was decided to send letters of thanks to the Victoria Lumber Company, Clement's Drugstore, Mrs. C. L. de Harwood, Mr. Syme and Mr. Michellin of the Gremelin Cafe, for donations. The district nurse reported fewer cases of measles in the districts and spoke of diphtheria toxoid and vaccination for smallpox to be administered at the school in June. The association agree to pay for engraving of medals received by the children on sports day. Next meeting will be held on June 18 with graduation exercises of Chemainus and Ladysmith High School on June 25. D. Huntley gave a talk on school finances in relation to the proposed new high school.

Esquimalt I.O.D.E.—The regent, Mrs. Warren Smith, presided at a meeting of Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Stelck, 1218 Old Esquimalt Road. It was decided members of the chapter will visit the D.V.A. Hospital on fourth Tuesdays of each month and will provide flowers for the hospital on July 5. A committee was formed to visit Sunshine Camp on July 11 and present a gift of bathroom scales. A home cooking stall at the garden tea to be given by H.M.C.S. Naden Chapter, at H.M.C. Dockyard in June, will be convoked by Mrs. J. Bryant. Members of the chapter will tag on Alexandra Rose Day, Mrs. W. E. Aikenhead, Empire Study convener, gave a report and members turned in food items to Mrs. G. P. Clarke, post-war service convener, to be sent to Britain.

A unique gift to please a bride is to team a long white garment cover for her wedding dress with a round cellophane box for her veil and a third white box for packing away her gloves, slippers and hankie.

Use CERTO to get
50% MORE JAM or JELLY
Quick... Easy... Sure Results

1 SHORT BOIL saves time and work. To make jam with Certo you need only a one to two-minute full, rolling boil... for jellies only a half-minute to a minute.

2 YOU GET 50% MORE jam, or jelly than with old-fashioned, long-boil recipes. The Certo boil is so short that very little of your precious juice has time to boil away in steam.

3 FRESH FRUIT TASTE and colour are retained in Certo jams and jellies. They taste delicious, look appetizing because the boil is too short to spoil the fresh flavor or dull the natural colour.

4 TESTED RECIPES Give sure results. See booklet under the label. Follow exactly the one for the particular fruit you are using. Certo is fruit pectin—the natural jelling substance extracted from fruit.

A pound of jam or jelly made with Certo contains no more sugar than a pound made the old long-boil way

Telephone Retirements And Promotions

W. R. JONES

R. J. MITCHELL

The B.C. Telephone Company announced today retirement on pension of E. P. LaBelle, general plant manager, and A. H. Lemmon, chief engineer, and appointment of W. R. Jones and R. J. Mitchell to their respective positions.

Manitoba born, Mr. LaBelle came to B.C. in 1905. He joined the B.C. Telephone Company the same year and held various supervisory plant positions until his appointment as general plant manager in 1920.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Mr. Lemmon came to Vancouver in 1912, when he joined the company as outside plant engineer. He has been chief engineer since 1921.

Mr. Jones, successor to Mr. LaBelle, has been with the company since 1915. He was promoted from superintendent of maintenance to assistant general plant manager in January, 1946. He was born in Wales.

Former transmission and protection engineer, R. J. Mitchell, who succeeds Mr. Lemmon, joined the company in 1923. A native of Manitoba, he came to B.C. in 1907. He was made assistant chief engineer last year.

Commissioners Want School At Parksville, Not Qualicum

PARKSVILLE — Village commissioners meeting Monday night, tabled a petition for street lighting from residents on Alberni Road beyond the post office.

The commission felt it was unfair to extend lighting there until it could be continued to municipal boundaries, in all directions. Reynolds Street which runs behind the shopping centre will be graveled and crowned immediately in order to divert traffic while the Island Highway through the village is rebuilt.

The commission decided to write the minister of education pressing the need for a consolidated school at Parksville rather than at Qualicum.

A letter will be sent to back the protest from the Trade Board and Club in Parksville, on the matter.

A stock pile of material will be built for the water system which is to be put in next year.

Start First Of 100 Homes At Lake Cowichan Next Week

LAKE COWICHAN—Contract for the 100 homes to be built here under the Wartime Housing project has been awarded to Garner Bros. of Duncan.

T. L. Garner reports that the first house will be started next week. The office building is already up and lumber is coming in by truck in readiness for the go-ahead.

The property is on a high spot surrounded by the hills of Lake Cowichan, and when the final clearing is made will present a view of Lake Cowichan. Work crews are still at work clearing debris for burning later in the fall.

A bunkhouse to house some 35 men will save a long trip to surrounding areas each day, and a Lake Cowichan cafe has arranged to feed the men. The project will take about a year if all building materials are in good supply.

The four, five and six-roomed houses will present various outside finishes and interiors will all be gyprock and insulated. No basements are planned.

Inquest Friday On Rusk Creek Death

NANAIMO—An inquest will be held here at 2 Friday afternoon on the death of Orville Arbuthnot, 25, of Extension, who was killed Thursday in an accident at Comox Logging & Railway Co. Ltd., operations at Rusk Creek.

Arbuthnot, a married man, was killed in an explosion that occurred while he was priming fuses, according to reports reaching Provincial Police headquarters at Nanaimo. He was employed as an assistant powder man.

Mayor's Food Parcel Fund Nears $10,000

Mayor's fund for parcels for Britain has reached a total of $9,121.92, with 1,300 parcels ordered to date, Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, chairman of the fund committee, reported today.

A total of 450 sugar coupons were donated, which enabled the committee to include a two-pound tin of jam in each of 450 parcels.

Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion at Duncan donated $350 for purchase of food for the parcels, which amount is contained in the total to date.

The interest in the fund is still keen and we are still accepting donations at the City Hall, said Mrs. Dowdall.

Victorians Treated To Stirring Airs By Famed R.C.A.F. Band

The internationally famous R.C.A.F. band of the Northwest Air Command made its appearance in Victoria Tuesday and provided many Victorians with a wide variety of music as band members played through the day, first aboard the R.C.A.F. craft Songhees in the Inner Harbor, then through the city streets, at the Legislative Buildings and, finally, at the Crystal Garden.

Here under the sponsorship of the Klonsmen Club and in support of the air cadet league movement, the 35-piece band was conducted by WO. Carl Friberg, under whose baton the R.C.A.F. Montreal band earlier won international fame.

In the day, Victorians were treated to the sounds of the music coming up from the waters of the Inner Harbor as the flag-bedecked Songhees arrived in port from Vancouver. Later, under the band drum-major, Sgt. W. Morrow, the band paraded through the streets, playing martial airs.

At the Legislative Buildings it played a variety of selections ranging from classical to modern. At the Crystal Garden, dance music was played.

While here, the visiting band also had as guest conductors for a few numbers Charles South, Victoria, formerly bandmaster of the R.C.A.F. Winnipeg Band, and Lt.-Cmdr. H. G. Cuthbert, bandmaster of the R.C.N. Band at Esquimalt.

It took 13 years to build Brooklyn Bridge.

Now is the time to enjoy this flavor treat!

McGeer Hopeful Of Low Cost Houses

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator G. G. McGeer, Mayor of Vancouver, said Tuesday he was hopeful of coming to an understanding with federal housing officials which would lead to erection of several hundred units of low-cost housing in Vancouver "without too much further delay."

He conferred Tuesday with David Mansur and Hugh Young, top men of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, and said he would renew conferences with Reconstruction Minister Howe later in the day.

He said he hoped he could reach agreement with them to provide both temporary and low-cost housing. The whole area of Greater Vancouver was under examination for that purpose and every available unit of wartime army shelter was to be made available.

Senator McGeer said amendments to the National Housing Act, passed by the Commons and now before the Senate, should be a boon to construction of homes in cities with their provisions for higher loans.

Inverchapel Taking Iowa Farm Holiday

EAGLE GROVE, Ia. (AP)—Baron Inverchapel, British Ambassador to the United States, was vacationing today on an Iowa farm, and he said he hoped to be allowed to run some farm machinery and milk some cows.

The ambassador arrived at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Newburn late Monday. Mrs. Newburn confirmed that he had arrived at the farm, but declined to allow a photographer to see him.

The ambassador also visited the Newburn farm last fall. He plans to stay three days on this visit.

Prairie Wheat Crops Lag By 2 Weeks; Warmth Needed

OTTAWA (CP)—Warmer weather is "urgently" needed in the prairie provinces, where the crop season is about two weeks behind normal, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said Tuesday in the second of 11 telegraphic reports covering crop conditions across Canada.

Temperatures and spring rainfall have remained below normal throughout the prairies and rain would be welcome in many districts. Frosts have been widespread, but serious damage has been restricted.

Seeding is about completed in Manitoba, where moisture reserves are still considered satisfactory with the exception of the southern Red River and Brandon areas.

WEEDS GAINING

A small percentage of flax and coarse grains remains to be sown in Saskatchewan. Germination has been generally fair to good, but warm weather is needed if crops are to compete with the heavy growth of weeds.

With wheat seeding completed and about 10 per cent of the coarse grains still to be seeded, crop conditions remain uniformly fair to good throughout Alberta. Scattered showers and heavier rains at some points during the past week replenished the drying top soil. Sub-soil moisture reserves remained satisfactory.

Spring work is well advanced in Nova Scotia, where seeding is practically completed. In New Brunswick, on the other hand, only 40 per cent of the grain and potatoes are in the ground. The season in Quebec is the latest in years, with cold weather, excessive rains and flooding hampering work on the land. At June 1, only 5 per cent of the intended grain acreage had been seeded.

In Ontario, unseasonably cool, wet weather has caused serious deterioration in the prospects for spring grains and late crops. West of Kingston only a little more than 50 per cent of the intended acreage of coarse grains has been seeded.

In British Columbia, the hot, dry weather of the last three weeks was relieved by good rains that fell in all sections. Hay and grain crops in non-irrigated sections of the interior have been affected by the drought, but where irrigation water was available the growth is excellent. Fruit crop prospects in the heavy producing Okanagan Val-

B.C.E.R. May Ask Increase In Rates

VANCOUVER (CP)—A. E. (Dal) Grauer, president of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., said Tuesday that the increasing labor and production cost of domestic gas may force the company to apply for an increase in consumer rates. Mr. Grauer's statement came following a meeting with Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Coal and Petroleum Control Board of the B.C. Public Utilities Commission.

Thrift Penalized

LONDON (CP)—Britons who have economized on their clothing coupons over the years were jolted when warned by Sir Stafford Cripps Tuesday their coupon savings were to be nullified. The President of the Board of Trade told the Commons that all coupons in clothes rationing books of 1945-1946 and earlier will be invalidated Nov. 1 to ease the difficulties of shopkeepers, whose coupon-handling problems increased with each new issue.

Sir C. Allom Dies

POTTER'S BAR, Middlesex, Eng. (CP)—Sir Charles Allom, 81, founder of White, Allom & Company, architects and contractors of London, New York and Montreal, died Tuesday. He was a contractor to the British War Office and Admiralty for the manufacture of high explosive shells as well as being on the Admiralty panel of architectural consultants. He also was a widely-known sportsman.

Poland Fixes Prices

Wage Boost Negotiated

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A new wage agreement giving 15,000 A.F.L. workers of 32 Pacific coast pulp and paper mills a 7½-cent hourly boost in addition to the 10 per cent increase paid since January was reported Tuesday by negotiating groups. The contract, effective June 1 if approved by vote of union locals, will run for a year.

Five Victoria Women Advance In B.C. Golf

Victoria's leading women golfers continued their bid for the provincial championship as five locals survived the first round of match play in the current tournament at the Uplands Club. Isabel Jarvis, Gorge Vale, Monday's medalist, won her opening match from Mrs. E. Cleat, Vancouver, 5 and 4.

Mrs. E. Jackson, veteran home club contender, advanced to the second round at the expense of Mrs. S. Thompson, Vancouver, 3 and 2. Mrs. M. Todd-Finney and Mrs. Jack Todd, Oak Bay's strong representatives in the title flight, both won their matches, the former defeating Mrs. A. Hicks, Quilchena, 5 and 3, and Mrs. Todd setting down Miss P. Bagley, also of Oak Bay, 5 and 4.

Mrs. R. Fanthorpe, Gorge Vale, was the fifth Victorian to win, taking her match from Miss Kay Farrell, Vancouver, 1 up.

Defending champion Miss Winifred Evans, Vancouver, survived a bitter duel with Mrs. G. E. Harris, Oak Bay, 1 up. Mrs. Rena O'Callaghan, Vancouver, a former titleholder, defeated Miss Mary Peung, Uplands, 3 and 2, while Miss Babs Davies, Vancouver, eliminated Mrs. S. D. Horsford, Uplands, 2 and 1.

Sportsmen To Vote On Deer Question At Next Meeting

Are you in favor of having spike bucks labeled not legal targets, thus limiting bags in the coming fleet-foot open season to "forks or better"?

That is the question members of the Victoria Fish and Game Association will vote on at their next general meeting, a notice-of-motion to that effect to be incorporated in mailed cards to members telling them of the meeting.

At last night's meeting of the association Ted McConnan, secretary, reported that this motion was to be put to all island clubs by order of the affiliated body as a result of it being presented by an up-island group at the last Nanaimo meeting.

It is an annual affair, the motion always being presented to sportsmen for their opinion. It has been defeated each time to date.

POOR WORKING BEE TURNS OUT

President Fred Hughes, who this week returned from the sportsmen-game officials convention at Harrison Hot Springs, spoke on the lack of attendance by members at the Goldstream Park site of the association on working bees to establish the club's permanent home. The next bee will be Sunday, starting at 8 in the morning and continuing throughout the day.

Game wardens George Stevenson and Joe Jones were extended messages of thanks for the work they had done opening the dam on the stream running out of Prospect Lake.

Included in the list of motions Secretary McConnan read from the last meeting of the affiliated clubs was one calling for the barring of salmon roe for angling purposes in up-island streams.

The meeting asked for the 1947 pheasant season to open at dawn rather than at the noon hour as in previous years.

V.A.S.C. Will Hold Splash Party Tonight

Members of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club will hold a splash party at the Crystal Garden tonight, starting at 7. Races and games for juniors and seniors will be staged. The club's former Canadian championship relay team have challenged the juniors for another race after having lost the last one by inches. Parents of club members will be admitted to the Crystal Garden upon presentation of club membership card. Refreshments will be served after the events.

Big Home Run Bats Keep Giants On Top

Although New York Giants are the surprise team of the majors, there is no secret why Mel Ott's gang is at the top of the National League today. The answer lies in their big, booming home run bats.

In 39 games, of which they've won 23, the slugging men of Ott, led by Johnny Mize, the majors' leading home hitter, have walloped 48 four-baggers. At this rate, they not only will better their previous high of 143 in 1930, but top the team record of 182 set by New York Yankees in 1936.

The Giants hit three circuit smashes at the Polo Grounds last night to whip Chicago Cubs 8 to 3 and take over sole possession of first place.

Brooklyn Dodgers swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh outslugging the Pirates 11 to 6 and 8 to 7 to move into third place past Boston Braves who were shut out by St. Louis Cardinals 3 to 0 in Boston. Philadelphia Phillies advanced from seventh to sixth past Cincinnati by downing the Reds 4 to 1 at Philadelphia.

YANKS SLICE LEAD

New York Yankees, led by Joe DiMaggio, blanked Detroit Tigers 3 to 0 to narrow the Bengals' first-place lead in the American League to two games. Washington went into a virtual fifth-place tie with Philadelphia Athletics by nosing out the third-place Cleveland Indians 6 to 5 in Cleveland. The last-place St. Louis Browns came from behind to nip Boston Red Sox 4 to 3 and Chicago White Sox defeated the Athletics 3 to 0.

The Giants collected only 10 hits off three Cub hurlers but half were for extra bases including homers by Willard Marshall, Walker Cooper and Sid Gordon as lefty Dave Koslo registered his fifth win against two defeats.

Rex Barney received credit for both Dodger victories. The fireball right-hander started the opener and was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth inning. He relieved in the sixth inning of the nightcap after the Bucs had overcome a 6 to 0 Dodger lead and were trailing 8 to 7 with men in scoring position, but checked the Pirates thereafter.

Gordon Trophy Match At Heal's Saturday
Visitors to Heal's Range Saturday afternoon will witness one of the most important rifle matches of the season when six-man teams from The Canadian Scottish Regiment, the 5th (B.C.) Coast Regiment, and the R.C.E.M.E. pit their skill for possession of the coveted Gordon Trophy, symbol of unit supremacy.

Rain or shine the match will be shot out with 10 rounds at each of the 200, 500 and 600-yard ranges.

The magnificent solid silver Gordon Trophy was purchased by the 50th Gordon Highlanders, upon their disbandment to perpetuate the name of the regiment and was first shot for in 1930 when it was won by the Garrison Rifle Association.

LACROSSE PRACTICE

No change was shown in the balance of the list of Canadians who drew tickets.

City Track Championships At Macdonald Park Tonight
Under the sponsorship of the Y.M.C.A. and sanctioned by the B.C. branch of the A.A.U. of Canada, the Victoria and District track and field championships will be held at Macdonald Park tonight, with the first main event starting at 6.15.

A new venture this season, the twilight meet has drawn a large list of entrants from the Flying "Y" track squad, Victoria High, Oak Bay High, Brentwood, Esquimalt, University School and Mount View High.

Junior boys will compete in the 100, 220, 440, 880, high jump and broad jump events, with seniors competing in the 100, 220, 440, 1/2 mile, mile, broad jump, high jump, 440, relay, and 880 relay.

RELAYS FEATURE
There are also sprints and jumps for both senior and junior girls, with a special feature being the open men's and women's mixed relay. The mixed relay

ONE OF THE happiest fellows in town these days is Louis DeCosta, manager of the Canadian Legion soccer team. DeCosta has lived up to his boast that he would get a team together which would make a good showing in the Province Cup series. Proof is those two smashing victories over Coast League competition last week. The Legion, after knocking over Victoria United, came back with a rousing performance to eliminate Nanaimo and move into the series semifinals. The win over Nanaimo, Saturday, was well-deserved and, if the Legion forwards had had their shooting eyes in, the score at halftime would have been at least 5 to 0. They had that big a margin on the play.

REGARDLESS OF HOW the Legion fare against Vancouver St. Andrews here Saturday they have done well and DeCosta rates a pat on the back for a fine job. In the Saints the local eleven goes up against a club that has swept everything before it this season. The Scots took the Coast League championship by finishing on top in both halves and since early in the season have been rated as likely winners of the Canadian championship. However, if the Legion continues to play a bustling style of football they can provide the mainlanders with lots of trouble. Nothing upsets a clever side as much as spoiling tactics. They never get a chance to settle down. If the Saints are allowed to get set and play football the Legion will stand little chance.

IF THE ATHLETICS hope to improve their third place position in the Western International League they will have to find ways and means of defeating the Bremerton Bluejackets and Tacoma Tigers. Although the Northerners have the distinction of being the only team to defeat Bremerton over the past two weeks, the league leaders hold a season's edge over the locals, five games to four. Tacoma has caused the locals no end of trouble taking five of the eight games played to date. Vancouver and Victoria are all square in their series each with three wins while the A's best Yakima four to three; Wenatchee, five to two; Salem four to three, and Spokane three to one in their series. Following the Wenatchee series, the A's take on Spokane in four games at Spokane, returning home Monday night with the Indians again the opposition.

WHEN CORNELIUS Vanderbilt Whitney switched jockeys on his three-year-old Phalanx, Saturday, the move paid off. Phalanx, which just missed in the Kentucky Derby and failed to move up in both the Preakness and Peter Pan handicaps, received a perfect ride under the clever little Chilean, Rupert Donoso, and won the Belmont Stakes going away. By selecting Donoso to replace the veteran Eddie Arcaro, Whitney got himself the jockey figured tops on United States tracks for his ability to rate a thoroughbred. Listening to the radio description of the Belmont classic, it was interesting to note that turf commentator Clem McCarthy remarked during the early running that Phalanx was up closer on the pace than he had been in any of the previous classics. It is not likely that Arcaro will ever get the leg up on Phalanx again.

A's Unleash 21-Hit Assault On Chiefs

With the Wenatchee pitching staff playing the role of "cousins" to the A's sluggers, the Victoria squad last night blasted out a 21-hit attack on the cellar-dwelling Chiefs to rack up an 18 to 11 victory in a marathon Western International League baseball contest that took three hours to complete.

Jack Harshman with four for four, Bill Anske with three for five, Leo Righetti with three for six, and pitcher Ray Fortier with three for four led the attack on the Chiefs. Eight of the 21-hit total were of the extra base variety with Bill White and Babe Jensen connecting for home runs, Righetti, White, Harshman and Fortier clouting doubles and Hooper and Harshman hitting triples.

The A's opened up a big lead in the first three innings, tallying twice in the first and three times in the second and third innings. From then on the game developed into a slugfest with Ray Fortier taking things easy on the hill as his mates put wood to the ball and pounded the hometown hurlers unmercifully.

BREMERTON BLANKED
Yakima stars, although outlived 10 to 7, came up with four double plays in their game with the Bremerton Bluejackets, and whitewashed the league leaders 5 to 0. Four big runs in the sixth sewed up the game. Bill Ahern was charged with the loss.

The idle Spokane Indians maintained second place in the standings and moved half a game closer to Bremerton as a result of the Bluejackets' defeat. The Vancouver-Salem game was also canceled by rain.

North Shore Plays Second Cup Draw

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver United and North Shore Reds Tuesday night battled through 30 minutes of overtime to a 1 to 1 tie in a second-round replay of the Provincial Cup soccer playoffs.

Saturday the two teams finished in a scoreless tie. They meet again Saturday in another replay to attempt to break the deadlock.
Syd Gorrie got North Shore's tally after 16 minutes of the first half, and Mario Christiano reciprocated for United at five minutes from full time.

Gordon Richards To Ride Tudor Minstrel

LONDON (AP)—Gordon Richards, champion British jockey, said Tuesday he would ride John Dewar's favored Tudor Minstrel in the Epsom Derby Saturday.

He had been offered both Tudor Minstrel and King George's Blue Train, a mudder which now is a doubtful starter because of the hard turf at Epsom. If the royal colt runs he will be ridden by jockey Michael Beary.

Richards, 43, never has won the derby.

Organize Hockey Congress To Foster National Sport

MONTREAL (CP)—Steps to encourage development of amateur hockey talent by formation of a general hockey congress, inauguration of an annual all-star game, and additional cash awards for the top scorers and members of all-star second teams featured yesterday's annual meeting of the National Hockey League's board of governors.

Left over for further revision of a minor nature was the league schedule of 60 games, running from Oct. 15 to March 21, while a compromise agreement with the United States Hockey League was reached and left for the approval of the U.S.H.L. executive.

The all-star game was set for Toronto on Oct. 13, between the Stanley Cup-winning Maple Leafs and the all-star first and second place teams augmented by other players.

Dick Irwin will coach the all-star team, which includes no Toronto players, and proceeds will go to charity and the players' emergency fund. The 1948 game will be played at Chicago.

CASH AWARDS

The governors voted a $1,000 cash award to the league's leading point scorer in future, with $500 going to the runner-up. Members of the second all-star team will receive $500 each.

The proposed hockey congress will be formed in co-operation with the minor leagues and amateur bodies to foster growth of the game and development of talent.

The congress will not be a formal body and will have no power to make decisions, but will act as a common meeting place for professional and amateur hockey officials to talk over their problems.

Discussion was heated on the sponsorship by-law, but the only revision made was one raising from $1,500 to $2,000 payments made in respect of players taken by other teams from sponsored clubs.

Last Period Rally Gives Legion Fourth Straight Boxla Victory

Coming from behind with an eight-goal outburst in the final quarter, Canadian Legion last night rang up their fourth straight victory in the senior B lacrosse league by defeating the winless Foul Bay squad 14 to 9.

After taking a three-goal lead in the first quarter, and maintaining a two-goal, 6 to 4, margin at the half, Legion faded before the speed of the Foul Bay attack in the third period and trailed 9 to 6 entering the final 15 minutes.

It was evident as the fourth quarter got under way that Foul Bay had run themselves out. Vets turned on the heat and by virtue of some nice passing plays, combined with the odd "sleeper," poured eight goals by the bewildered Thompson in the Foul Bay nets.

Arnold Ferguson was the main cog in the Vets victory, the veteran picking up six assists in addition to playing a fine defensive game. Fred Ranson with three markers topped the goal-getters. Halbert, Shubrooke and Irwin, each with two goals, led the losers.

THURSDAY'S GAME

On Thursday night Jokers and Tillicums will provide the highlights, with second place in the league standings going to the winner.

Teams and scorers follow:

Legion: Long, T. McKeachie 2, Ranson 3, Mallin, Ferguson, McKim 2, J. McKeachie 2, Manson, Baker, Popham 2, Mair, Lott 2, McCaghey, Allen 1.

Foul Bay: Thompson, Chugrines 1, Stewart 1, Halbert 2, Irwin 2, Druce 1, Taylor, Walker, Scott, Shubrooke 2, Thomas, Satterfield, Crockett.

Midget Auto Racer Dies From Injuries

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Dinny Patterson, 36, Australian midget auto race driver, died yesterday from injuries suffered Friday during a qualifying run prior to the inaugural midget auto racing program.

Patterson, making his first appearance as a midget pilot since arriving in the United States, was alone on the track when the machine crashed through a wooden wall on a turn at Balboa Stadium and hurled against cement pillars. His widow resides in Australia.

Marshall Now Seeks Bout With Lesnevich

LONDON (AP)—Lloyd Marshall, negro light-heavyweight from Cleveland, knocked out 173-pound British champion Freddie Mills last night and thereby cast the deepest of gloom over British boxing prospects.

Freddie, who went down for the count in 2:58 of the fifth round, was the last of Britain's top-ranking attractions in the heavier classes after the recent defeat of heavyweight Bruce Woodcock by the American, Joe Baksi.

Mills was uncertain as to his plans, but apparently he had lost hope of having a try at Gus Lesnevich's world title. Marshall, on the other hand, was jubilant and believed a title fight was within his reach.

BAKSI MATCHED

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Joe Baksi, heavyweight boxer from Kulpmont, Pa., and Ollie Tandberg, Swedish champion at that weight, will meet July 6 in a 10-round bout at a site still to be determined. It was announced yesterday.

Legion, Eagles In Senior Ball Tussle

It will be Canadian Legion against Eagles in tonight's senior amateur baseball game at Athletic Park, starting at 7. Vets, after getting away to a slow start, have started to hit their true stride and are expected to give the league leaders quite a battle.

Coach Bob Wiegand will likely use veteran Lloyd Cann on the hill with young Bob Brousseau the probable starter for the bird-men.

Official Denies Communists Control Many B.C. Unions

George A. Wilkinson today expressed himself as being in sharp disagreement with Walter Owen, who, in an address to the Canadian Wholesale Grocers' convention in Vancouver Tuesday, had charged that Communist party men were in key positions in many B.C. trade unions.

Mr. Owen had said that "Communists have secured control of unions by the use of pressure tactics and party men are in key positions in a dangerously large number of British Columbia unions."

Mr. Wilkinson is secretary of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

Said Mr. Wilkinson in reply to Mr. Owen: "There can be no question that there are Communists in control of some unions, but there is also no question in the minds of every intelligent worker that the bulk of the trade union movement is not only free of Communists but is decidedly unsympathetic toward Communism. Many authoritative students of labor in the United States have stated that the trade unions are the only groups organized to resist Communist infiltration, and I think the same position holds true in Canada."

"I could quote a statement by John Foster Dulles in which Mr. Dulles stated through a National publication in the U.S.A. and Canada, that 'The trade unions are waging a totally unappreciated war against Communism in the U.S.A. They are the only groups who recognize Communist tactics and effectively move against them.'"

"I would say without hesitation that the vast majority of A.F. of L. and T. and L.C. unions in B.C., which comprise the majority of organized workers in B.C., will resent the inference that the Communist party is in control of their unions."

"It might be well for industry to remember that workers who join unions and take part in union activity do so because their wages and working conditions are such that they need the protection that a bona fide union can give them, and I find it difficult to believe that many unorganized workers refrain from joining unions because of foreign domination, as stated by Mr. Owen. There are three major reasons why workers do not join unions. First, because they are afraid if they do join they will be fired; secondly, because they do not need a union; and thirdly, because their employers make extravagant promises to keep them out."

"I think that the industrialists who retain high-priced legal counsel, to disrupt workers' organizations do more to open the door for Communist control of unions than any other factor. History has shown that any employer willing to negotiate in a fair and honest manner with his employees has little to fear from his organized workers."

Patients at the new Veterans' Hospital, Richmond Avenue, were entertained by the Georgian Choristers. Mrs. G. Watt conducted and Miss Ethel James was at the piano. Mrs. G. Watt, Mrs. H. C. Gill, Mrs. C. Hardy and Miss Florence Smith sang solos.

City Cannot Guarantee 225 Housing Units

Conversion of 65 buildings at Gordon Head Military Camp for use as emergency shelter, will be the subject of a joint meeting of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, city lands committee and J. G. Walker, emergency shelter officer at Vancouver, in mid-June, it was decided at a meeting of the lands committee today in City Hall.

In a letter to council Mr. Walker stated that it was his understanding the city would guarantee 225 units of shelter and take on the responsibilities of education costs and servicing of the area.

"The city cannot guarantee how many housing units will be forthcoming; we don't know," said Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands committee, today.

"The city cannot guarantee to provide sewerage, electricity and other municipal services for the area which is in Saanich municipality. We are asking Mr. Walker to come to a meeting here on the matter."

Members of the lands committee will make final selection and approval of lots for the additional 50 wartime houses to be built in Victoria, following receipt of a letter from J. A. Jones, regional supervisor of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Expect 350 Donors To Attend Clinic

Col. M. D. Robertson, chairman of the Red Cross blood transfusion service for the Greater Victoria area, said this morning 350 blood donors were expected to donate to the service during the day.

The mobile clinic arrived in the city this morning and set up its equipment at the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion Hall. The clinic was open from 1:30 to 4:30 and will open again this evening from 7:30 to 9:30.

This afternoon a number of army personnel attended the clinic. Of the total number of men stationed at the local garrison 80 per cent have volunteered to donate blood to the Red Cross service.

Tomorrow the clinic will visit Chemainus.

Alberta Forces To Train Here

Alberta Reserve Force personnel will attend two phases of summer camps to be held here at Esquimalt, July 13 to 27 and July 27 to Aug. 10, it is reported by Western Command army headquarters.

The two phases in which the Esquimalt camp will be divided for the Alberta forces are a first, coast artillery, heavy anti-aircraft and component signals, and, second, light anti-aircraft units.

Alberta forces will also attend camps at Chilliwack and Wainwright, Alta.

Training equipment recently issued to reserve units will be concentrated at the camps for summer activities. In outlining his plans for the Reserve Force, Maj. Gen. F. Worthington, G.O.C., Western Command, said camps will be of a very practical nature. Tactical exercises, artillery shoots, small arms firing, tank training, schemes and training of specialized branches of the army will be carried out.

During periods of summer training, tradesmen and specialists will concentrate on subjects applicable to their branches of the service as well as basic training.

B.C. units, including infantry and armored regiments will hold camps at Chilliwack, Vernon and Boundary Bay. Headquarters, B.C. area, Vancouver, are planning and making final arrangements for summer training of units in the coastal area. Under present plans, cadet corps within the area of Western Command will send representatives to Chilliwack for summer training during July.

Officer cadets of university C.O.T.C. contingents are now concentrated from all parts of Canada in special corps training schools for intense courses of practical training along the lines of chosen specialist corps.

Premier King Moves On Local Appeal To Outlaw Dog Hanging

On the appeal of the Victoria Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Prime Minister Mackenzie King has advised he will see that the society's representations for outlawing the hanging of dogs in Canada is brought to the attention of the Minister of Justice, it was reported today.

In a letter to Mr. King, James Barr, president of the Victoria S.P.C.A., expressed the society's concern over the fact no statute was included in the Criminal Code which made it illegal to kill a dog by hanging.

He asked that the code be amended to prevent "improper killing of dogs and other animals." Mr. Barr classed the hanging of dogs as "revolting to think of and definitely contrary to our Canadian way of life."

Brig.-Gen. Hughes Dies In 77th Year

Brig.-Gen. Henry Thoresby Hughes, C.M.G., D.S.O., of Santa Clara Avenue, died today, aged 77. Born in London, Eng., he came to Canada as a young man and was employed as civil engineer by the Canadian Pacific Railway, Lake Superior Division. He joined the Royal Canadian Engineers as a subaltern in 1904, was camp engineer at Valcartier in 1914; commanded Royal Engineers, Second Canadian Division in 1918-19 and was chief engineer of the Canadian Battlefields Memorials Commission, supervising memorials in eight cities of France and Belgium, including Vimy Memorial. His widow and two sons survive.

Society Plans To Rehearse For Mikado

Newly-installed officers of the executive and advisory committees of the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society met last night to discuss their plans for the coming year.

Club members of this already well-known musical organization feel that Victoria music lovers were so keenly responsive to their second venture in the field of Gilbert and Sullivan art in their recent presentation of the "Gondoliers" that they are most eager to get into the swing again of weekly rehearsals and start work on their next production, which will be the "Mikado" and which will be presented in Victoria early in March next year. A general meeting of all club members will be held in their clubroom on Sept. 29 and the following week on Oct. 6 will see the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Society active in their first rehearsal of the "Mikado."

Miss Jarvis, Mrs. Todd Gain Semis In Provincial Golf

Two Victoria stars and a like number from Vancouver reached the semifinals of the British Columbia women's golf championship at the Uplands Club today.

Medalist Miss Isabel Jarvis, Gorge Vale, gained the last four with a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. E. Jackson, Uplands. Mrs. J. H. Todd, Oak Bay, defeated her clubmate Mrs. M. Todd-Finney 3 and 2, while defending champion, Winnifred Evans, Shaughnessy Club, Vancouver, defeated Mrs. R. Fanthorpe, Gorge Vale, 4 and 2. In the fourth match Mrs. Rena O'Callaghan, Quilchena, Vancouver, survived a keen match with Babs Davis, Marine Drive, Vancouver, to win 1 up.

In tomorrow's semifinals Miss Jarvis meets Mrs. J. H. Todd and Mrs. Evans engaged Mrs. O'Callaghan, assuring an intercity final, Friday, over 36 holes.

Most of the interest in today's quarterfinals centred around the Todd-Todd-Finney match. After being all square at the turn Mrs. Todd won the 10th to go 1 up and took the 14th and 15th to 3 up. When the 16th hole was halved the match was over.

After a succession of halved holes from the 13th, Mrs. O'Callaghan won the 17th with a putt and halved the 18th to register her close victory over Miss Davies.

Propose $33,700 For Strawberry Vale School

A modern school building which would cost an estimated $30,000 to erect is planned for Strawberry Vale School, under the Greater Victoria school building program. It would take an estimated $1,500 for furniture and equipment for the building, which would be the first unit of a two-unit building. The second unit would be built when the present buildings become unsuitable.

Independents Urge New Supreme Body To Regulate All Radio Affairs In Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Establishment of a body similar to the Board of Transport Commissioners to license and regulate all radio in Canada was urged today by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters in a brief read to the radio committee of the Commons.

The association, which represents 89 out of the 103 independent radio stations in Canada, made these four recommendations:

1. Overhaul of radio broadcasting legislation to establish a charter under which publicly-owned and independent commercial stations can expand, prosper and serve.

2. Appointment of an independent licensing and regulatory body, appointed by and indirectly responsible to Parliament, with power to license and regulate all radio in Canada.

3. Continuation of the CBC as a national broadcasting system without power to regulate its competitors.

4. Establishment of freedom of speech on the air as a matter of right.

CBC NOT INDEPENDENT

The brief said the CBC, which now controls radio in Canada, was not an independent body, but for all intents and purposes was "legally in the hands of the government of the day."

"We think it important to draw the line of distinction between government-of-the-day and Parliament," said the brief. "The government-of-the-day consists of a prime minister and his cabinet. While it represents majority opinion — sometimes only in theory due to factors in the results of voting — it represents only one share of political opinion."

"In view of these admittedly important functions, we suggest that a body similar to the Board of Transport Commissioners, possessed of the powers necessary to license and regulate radio in the public interest, convenience and necessity, appointed on joint address of Parliament and removable only by that method, would be appropriate."

"Such a board would, we submit, be the proper custodian of licensing and regulatory power, now exercised by the board of governors of the CBC and the minister under the broadcasting and radio acts."

WOULD FREE CBC

"Such an arrangement would leave the CBC free to concentrate upon its broadcasting activities and its internal affairs."

The brief said public opinion favored independent rather than government ownership of radio. To support this contention the C.A.B. called on Walter Elliott, president of Elliott-Haynes Ltd., Toronto, to outline to the committee the results of a three-year survey.

Mr. Elliott said six surveys had been made across Canada between September, 1944, and February, 1947, and each survey showed the majority favored independent ownership of radio. The surveys showed that supporters of independent radio all across Canada increased from 44 per cent in September, 1944, to 57.8 per cent in February, 1947. Support of government operation of radio declined from 36 per cent in September, 1944, to 24.1 per cent in February, 1947.

In leading up to the recommendations, the brief reviewed the powers the government could exercise through the CBC and said that "as matters stand, the government-of-the-day could constitutionally, promptly and without changing a word of present legislation, prevent expression of any opinion other than its own."

"We concede that the present government has no such intention, but the danger is there. The situation arose because since the first radio act was passed there has never been an over-all survey of radio legislation and regulation, nor any attempt to determine its application to modern conditions."

Working Majority In New Zealand

Working Majority In New Zealand

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — After winning the general election last November by a shaky margin, New Zealand's Labor government now seems assured of a workable majority in the House of Representatives and it is expected Prime Minister Fraser will be able to muster a majority of three even after the appointment of a speaker.

The electoral court which heard a petition for the unseating of the Labor member for Raglan has ruled in favor of the sitting member, A. C. Baxter. The court decided Baxter retained his seat by 13 votes.

This verdict practically eliminated the opposition's prospects of forcing an early voting defeat on the government in the House of Representatives.

White House Meeting Expected To Bring Argentina U.S. Arms

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats look today for Argentina to be successful in its long bid to get United States arms.

They say that sale of U.S. military equipment to the Buenos Aires government is one of three major developments likely to follow Tuesday's White House conference re-establishing formal good relations.

The turn came when President

Truman indicated to Argentine ambassador Oscar Ivanissevich U.S. willingness to sit down with Argentina and the other American republics to draft a mutual defence treaty.

Besides the arms sales, diplomatic authorities also predict:

1. Holding of the Inter-American defence conference at Rio de Janeiro in July or August if arrangements can be made in time.

2. A re-estimate of the political situation in South America as a result of the changed relationship between Buenos Aires and Washington.

The White House conference was attended not only by Ambassador Ivanissevich but also by State Secretary Marshall and Under-Secretary Dean Acheson.

Ivanissevich reviewed steps by the Peron administration to rid Argentina of Axis agents and interests and President Truman told him in response that the United States is willing to renew its consultations with other governments concerning the Rio conference.

Mayor Of Seattle At Kiwanis Club

"The other fellow is just like you," Mayor William Devin of Seattle, told members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club Tuesday at the Empress Hotel.

"People are people no matter where you find them. Border lines are fictitious. We should place more importance on people and less on border lines."

The Seattle mayor continued: "The people of America and Canada get along very well together because they know and understand each other. If all nations could get along as our two, what a wonderful world it would be."

Mayor Devin attended the meeting with a visitation of 21 Seattle Kiwanians.

The entire program for the meeting was put in the hands of the visitors from south of the border and Walter Moore, president of the Seattle Club, acted as chairman and Hollis Davenney, Seattle musical director, led the members in community singing.

Charles Olmstead, immediate past-president of the Seattle Club and co-chairman of the forthcoming 1947 Kiwanis District Convention, outlined the various activities planned for the convention to be held in Seattle, starting Sept. 21. He urged all Victoria Kiwanians to attend.

Mayor Percy George welcomed the visitors.

Conference Planned For Longshoremen Of Pacific Nations

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—

Dockers, longshoremen or water-side workers, as they are known in different countries, from all nations bordering the Pacific may meet soon at a Pan-Pacific conference to formulate a policy for closer co-operation and joint action.

A proposal for a conference was put forward by the president of the New Zealand Waterside Workers' Union, H. Barnes, in a radiotelephone conversation with Harry Bridges, president of the United States Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, after which it was stated here that Bridges would arrange detailed plans for the conference.

Suggested venue for the conference was San Francisco, Honolulu, Suva or Auckland. It is proposed that representatives of all Pacific states should attend, including delegates from Canada, the Soviet, Indonesia, China and the South American countries.

In pursuance of its policy of closer contacts between dock workers the president and secretary of the New Zealand union went to Australia for talks with the leaders of the industry there.

The New Zealand Waterside Workers' Union staged a major trial of strength with the government at the end of last year in which it gained many of its demands. It has been mobilizing its forces recently in support of a demand for greater worker control in the industry and there have been predictions that a new waterfront crisis may arise.

The DOCTOR Says:

NEW REMEDIES AID HAY FEVER VICTIMS

Hay fever time is already here for those who are sensitive to tree pollen. Grass and weed victims will develop their trouble as summer advances. Patients who have not been made insensitive and those who cannot go to a pollen-free place may be relieved of symptoms by recently discovered remedies.

True pollen allergic reactions only occur at the time the pollen are in the air. Patients who have symptoms before or after the pollinating season do not have hay fever. Average patient with true hay fever is sensitive to three to five pollens, not one as was formerly believed.

Management of hay fever is a year-around affair. Most physicians recommend taking injections during the off season at fairly long intervals, then stepping them up well in advance of expected trouble. Some patients are rendered completely insensitive in the second or third year, while others may have to take a longer course.

Skin tests with the suspected pollen are taken before treatment is started. It is helpful to know the dates of symptoms. Then the physician by consulting a chart can tell which pollen are in the air at the time. Sixteen combination sets of skin test materials have simplified the search for the offending pollen in the average case.

MOST EFFECTIVE DRUGS

There is no special climate which benefits hay fever patients. Some patients have found it helpful to spend the season in a location where fewer of their pollen are in the air. Only ways to escape the difficulty are to take a sea voyage, to stay in an air-conditioned room in which the pollen have been filtered out, or to take prescribed injections.

Although many drugs have been used for symptomatic relief of hay fever, the most effective to date are pyribenzamine or benadryl. They must be administered by a physician so they can be stopped if reactions occur.

MUD AND SAND TURNED TO ROCK AND SAVED ANCIENT BONES

In these times almost everyone knows something about the strange animals of long ago. We may see their skeletons in many natural history museums, and artists have drawn thousands of pictures of them.

There is a great deal of public interest in those animals which used to wander over the land, or swim in the seas. Since we know about them, we have much better fortune than people who lived a century or two ago. Geology, the "science of the rocks," brings us facts which were hidden from our ancestors of a few generations ago.

The bones of ancient animals are found in layers of rock, and this fact has puzzled many persons. They wonder how the bones could have been mixed with the rock.

The answer is that the animals died where they were covered with sand or mud. Sometimes they sank into quicksand, or into the muddy bottoms of swamps. In the course of time the sand or mud hardened into rock. The rock known as "sandstone" is made up of sand which was pressed together in times past. The rock layers called "shale" are made of hardened mud.

The bones were saved in the rock and, with great care, men of science have put them together. This has made it possible for us to see the skeletons today.

Another puzzling thing is the fact that the remains of water animals are found on dry land. This is due to changes which have taken place on the earth during the ages which have gone by.

for New Pep and Energy

Animals died in the sea, but the water dried away in the course of time. There has been a great deal of rising and falling of the earth's surface, and this has caused the seas and oceans to change position.

"Ichthyosaurs" or "Fish Lizards" are examples of sea animals which have been found in rock layers. Dozens of their skeletons have been found in western parts of North America. Some of the oldest skeletons have been located in California and Nevada.

Fish lizards were usually from four to eight feet long, but some members of the family grew to lengths of from 20 to 30 feet.

They lived in the water, but breathed air. In that respect, they were like such modern air-breathing animals as seals and whales.

Explosive Envelopes Received In Britain

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard said today several prominent persons in England had received envelopes, mailed in Italy, containing what appeared to be a dangerous explosive.

Yard officials declined to name any of the recipients or to give any hint as to their identity. Informants said the packets were made up of an outer envelope, cream in color and measuring 8½ inches by 6½ inches, bearing a typewritten name and address and the words "Private and Confidential."

Inside this was another envelope, 7½ by 6 inches, containing what was described as an "explosive powder" which would have been detonated by opening the envelope.

None of the inner envelopes was opened, however, since in each case, Scotland Yard said, the recipients became suspicious and notified police. Both the criminal investigation and political branches of Scotland Yard are making inquiries.

YORK THEATRE

Stanley Holloway plays Albert Godby, station ticket collector in Noel Coward's "Brief Encounter," which is now showing at the York Theatre. Albert Godby is the type of man you would expect to find collecting tickets from passengers at a small country station, and he has a way with him which appeals to all the travelers.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Margaret Lockwood, England's top movie actress, holds the title role in Eagle-Lion's dramatic triumph, "Bedelia," currently at the Capitol Theatre. The picture is based on Vera Caspary's thrilling novel about the wickedest woman who ever loved.

The name of Portland, Ore., was decided by flipping a coin.

Mary Astor returns to the screen with Humphrey Bogart in the most baffling mystery of the year, "The Maltese Falcon," now showing at the Rio Theatre, brings the fat man, Sidney Greenstreet and Peter Lorre as the most powerful menace team to appear on any screen for many a year. Miss Astor and Bogart, searching for a fabulous jeweled statue, become involved in an amazing series of murder and master crimes.

ATLAS THEATRE

Columbia's smash melodrama, John Cromwell's "Dead Reckoning," currently at the Atlas Theatre, will end its engagement there tonight. Starring Humphrey Bogart and Elizabeth Scott, the film features Morris Carnovsky, Charles Cane, William Prince, Marvin Miller and Wallace Ford in supporting roles. Oliver H. P. Garrett's and Steve Fisher's screenplay has been directed by Cromwell. Sidney Biddell produced.

Commons Makes Start On Heavy List Of Government Estimates

OTTAWA (CP)—From penal reform to agriculture, with fish, tin and milk on the side, Parliament Tuesday enjoyed a wide-ranging bill-of-fare.

While the Commons and Senate got through little business except for second reading of a bill amending the Penitentiaries Act, the Commons made a start on the government's voluminous 1947-48 estimates.

In the penal bill discussion, Justice Minister Ilesley said the Dominion did not want to take over control of the penal institutions now administered by the provinces, but would be glad to discuss the subject if the provinces initiated such a move.

The federal government already was being "hounded" with cries of "centralization," he said, and it did not feel it should encroach on what was constitutionally the territory of the provinces.

(The federal penitentiaries across Canada are controlled by the Dominion. The provincial jails, in which the shorter sentences are served, are controlled by the provinces.)

AGRICULTURE DISCUSSED

With the House in committee of supply, members made suggestions ranging from greater expenditures on agriculture through "modernizing" tariffs on farm implements, restricting the export of these implements, encouraging the marketing of cattle in the United States, increasing the malting bonus on barley and exempting small farmers from income tax on hog production revenue.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said it was expected this year's federal spending would be enough to keep farmers from needing direct relief. As to the income tax, only a small fraction of the farmers were in the tax brackets.

Mr. Gardiner also indicated it was not the government's intention to extend the provisions of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act—a measure for drought relief—to other sections of Canada.

Replying to Percy Wright, C.C.F., Melfort, Sask., who said greater government expenditures on farming would be justified. Mr. Gardiner said net farm income was up from $387,000,000 in 1939 to $1,499,000,000 in 1946.

Mr. Wright agreed the farmers were better off, but he argued that hogs should be produced in western Canada instead of eastern Canada, where it cost the government money for the shipment of feed grain from the prairies.

Mr. Gardiner said he himself could not understand why prairie farmers did not feed their grain if they felt they could make money that way.

NO SENATE INQUIRY

The Senate rejected a motion calling for a committee study of the price spread on milk after Senator J. W. deB. Farris, Lib., British Columbia, had termed it "ill-timed" and said adoption of it would make the upper chamber look ridiculous.

He said there was "an unfair and unpleasant insinuation" in the motion presented by Senator James Murdoch, P.C., Ontario, which read:

"That the Senate instruct the natural resources committee to ascertain by official inquiry how much the milk producing farmers of Canada secure for their milk product less than five cents a quart, and to also inquire how much the milk collectors and distributors secure for milk collecting and distributing at better than 10 cents a quart."

Senator Farris said the milk distribution business was the subject of "innumerable" regulations, was far from a monopoly, and contained nothing that savored of injustice.

The motion insinuated that in every 15-cent quart of milk, the farmer received less than five cents and the others more than 10 cents. This was untrue and unfair.

PLAZA THEATRE

The Red Cross benefited from the appearance of 25 WACS in the technicolor spectacle, "Stairway to Heaven," a Universal International release, which has been held over at the Plaza Theatre. The women, who were stationed in England at the time, used their furloughs to play themselves in the film. They presented their entire earnings to the Red Cross. "Stairway to Heaven" co-stars David Niven, Raymond Massey and Roger Livesey.

ROYAL THEATRE

It is a family as well as a professional get-together, with Ethel Barrymore and Harry Davenport both cast in RKO Radio's comedy drama, "The Farmer's Daughter," now at the Royal Theatre. Miss Barrymore and Davenport are related by marriage. Of a trio of sisters, Davenport married one, Lionel Barrymore another, and Sidney Drew wed the third.

Britain May Drop Preferential Tariffs, C.M.A. Meeting Told

BANFF (CP)—Delegates to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association annual convention here Tuesday heard a discussion of international trade developments and a criticism of Communism.

R. N. McCormick of Toronto, manager of the C.M.A.'s tariff department, told the convention that Britain may wipe out the preferential position now enjoyed by Canadian manufacturers in the United Kingdom. This would place them on an equal basis with United States manufacturers so far as tariffs are concerned.

FAVORED BY FEDERATION

However, Moir Mackenzie, deputy director-general of the Federation of British Industries, said the federation is absolutely in favor of imperial preferences.

Mr. McCormick said the United Kingdom plan to abandon preferential tariff margins was learned of in Geneva.

"... We learned that the Canadian delegation in London had put up such a stiff fight against the proposed that the United Kingdom had agreed to abandon it."

Sir Frederick Bain of London, president of the F.B.I., said Canada must be prepared to accept more imports if she is to retain Britain as her best customer.

He defined the Dominion's greatest problem as that of popu-

DOMINION THEATRE

A genuine contribution to recuperating war veterans is being made by actor Felix Bressart.

Bressart, currently starring in PRC's "Her Sister's Secret" at the Dominion Theatre, has just received his second degree as a graduate physiotherapist and will contribute his knowledge to recuperating returnees. The actor has volunteered to give physiotherapy treatments to a number of veteran patients who have been discharged from military hospitals but who must continue to receive attention.

Canoeist Arrives At Fort William

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — In this technological age with its accent on speed and more speed, a man like 67-year-old Otto Smith becomes about as conspicuous as a horse and buggy at the auto races.

Certainly not the first man to travel from Vancouver to New York, Mr. Smith has added the quirk by doing it the hard way—using his 115-pound canoe.

It's more than a year since he loaded his 100-pound pack and started up the Fraser River from its mouth and in that time he has covered more than 2,000 miles of western Canada.

Making the trek by canoe and portage because "everybody said it couldn't be done," Mr. Smith, who has reached the age when most men prefer the comforts of an easy chair, arrived here Tuesday, a little more than 13 months after starting out.

He said he was "awfully tired" after coming across the nine miles of the Grand Portage to the Pigeon River and Fort Charlotte. "It was hard work along the old fur route and I had to make two trips—one for my 115-pound canoe and the other for my packs, which weigh 100 pounds." Mr. Smith is making the tough trip in slow stages and at the present rate it looks as if he should be seeing the big city sometime in 1948.

SWAN LAKE—A chic little home that is nearly new. Has four bright rooms, bathroom, garage, workshop, nearly third-acre garden with about 10 varieties of fruit trees. It may be a close range as to who gets the fruit, you can caterpillars, but it's a $4,750 snappy buy for $4,750

WALKING DISTANCE—Where do we get these low-priced specials? Ah, that's a trade secret. But it's not secret that we have a little bargain house where we see one. This is an exclusive and first-time advertised. Four rooms and five bathrooms, three doors from bus. Framing finished to roof level. Rough roofing on. About quarter-acre lot. The lot work is done. Buy it now and finish it yourself. Priced low! Low! Low! $2,500

UNFINISHED SPECIAL—We have no Celanese or big red bows to gift wrap this little brand new three-room bungalow. Three doors from bus. Framing finished to roof level. Rough roofing on. About quarter-acre lot. The lot work is done. Buy it now and finish it yourself. Priced low! Low! Low! $2,500

A JIM DANDY IN HIGH SAANICH—How Jim got in there, we don't know, but we do know a little bargain house where we see one. This is an exclusive and first-time advertised. Four rooms and five bathrooms, three doors from bus. Framing finished to roof level. Rough roofing on. About quarter-acre lot. The lot work is done. Buy it now and finish it yourself. Priced low! Low! Low! $2,500

WEST SAANICH ROAD—Another snappy snap from Victoria's Real Estate Headquarters. A neat one-room cottage of three acres of rich soil. One acre cleared in berries. Young trees and vegetables. Nice chicken house. You can hear Willie's other wife on the radio tomorrow today.

Tornado Hits Auto With Force Of Train

This Ford, a new car, was demolished after being tossed 300 yards by a twister that struck Pine Bluff, Ark., and swept through four plantation communities. The tornado killed 37 persons and injured 200.

Display Of Force
Halts Demonstrating
By China Students

SHANGHAI (AP)—China University students ended their three-week strike and resumed classes today, but all other colleges remained closed as the government and army continued to refuse demands for the release of 32 local students arrested in a round-up of alleged Communist agents.

The arrests and a strong show of force by patrolling troops and police in all major cities averted mass anti-civil war demonstrations scheduled for June 2.

ARRESTS AT CANTON

HONGKONG (AP)—The South China Morning Post said today that wholesale arrests of newspaper editors, reporters and "others suspected of having Communist sympathies" seemed to be one of the reasons for current political uneasiness in Canton.

A Canton correspondent wrote that early Sunday morning police raided the editorial offices of a Chinese daily, where the officers said they found pro-Communist documents and explosives. More than 50 members of the newspaper's staff were taken to police headquarters, the correspondent said.

U.N. World Police

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The world's other major powers lined up against Russia in the United Nations' Security Council today as delegates prepared to open general debate on the long-delayed organization of a global police force.

The United States was ready to support solidly the basic report of the military staff committee, from which the Soviet Union has dissented on more than a third of the basic principles.

Other members of the committee of admirals and generals from the U.S., Britain, France and China were in general agreement.

Inauguration of debate in the council provided the small countries with their first opportunity to comment on the report, which was 15 months in the drafting.

TWENTY (20) 10,000-TON DRY CARGO VESSELS OR "NORTH SANDS" TYPE (COAL BURNERS) at present under charter to the Ministry of Transport of the United Kingdom.

We have been advised by the Charterer of its intention to re-deliver to us Twenty (20) "North Sands" type vessels as per schedule set forth hereunder:

TENTATIVE DELIVERY DATES AS FOLLOWS:

Group No. 1—Eight (8) vessels between approximately May 1st and June 30th, 1948.

Group No. 2—Six (6) vessels between approximately July 1st and September 30th, 1948.

Group No. 3—Six (6) vessels between approximately October 1st and November 15th, 1948.

Tenders are accordingly invited for the purchase of the vessels in two units of three and one unit of two from Group No. 1 and in units of three from Group No. 2 or Group No. 3. Vessels will be selected by the Seller, on or about January 1st, 1948.

No allocations will be made in respect of any tender until the vessels concerned have actually been named to us by the Charterer and, as and when allocated by us on or about January 1st, 1948, same will be subject to safe delivery at a Canadian port or elsewhere as may be mutually agreed upon.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

- No tender will be considered of less than $450,000.00 for each vessel in Group No. 1; of less than $425,000.00 for each vessel in Group No. 2; and of less than $400,000.00 for each vessel in Group No. 3.
- Each vessel will be delivered to the successful tenderer "as is, where is," but classed by a recognized classification society.
- Delivery will be made at a Canadian port at Seller's option, or otherwise as may be mutually agreed.
- The successful tenderer to purchase all coal, lubricating oils and unbroached consumable stores on board at the time of delivery at the market price prevailing at the port of delivery.
- The successful tenderers to operate the vessels under Canadian registry.
- All sales subject to approval by Order in Council.
- All tenders must be accompanied with a certified cheque or bank draft for 5% of the tender price, made payable to War Assets Corporation. A further 5% deposit will be payable six months prior to the anticipated delivery or upon nomination of each vessel by the seller, whichever is the earlier. Tenders should be addressed as follows:

They CAME TO FIND OUT

In 1847 when the Canada Life was founded, few people understood just what life insurance was. Many were opposed to it. Some thought they would be inviting the wrath of Providence by insuring their lives.

So lecturers were sent out to explain life insurance at public meetings. Gradually, as people learned of the benefits of life insurance, the early hostility gave way to implicit confidence.

Since its beginning 100 years ago, the Canada Life has issued some 800,000 policies; it has paid policyholders and beneficiaries, or accumulated for them, more than $940 millions—$100 millions more than the premiums it has received.
